

Roosevelt Asks Right to Speed Relief Program If It's Needed

Does Not Boost His Budget Estimate For Fiscal Year

MAPS OUT VIEWS

Says Hopes for Increased Employment Not Entirely Realized

Washington — (P) — The senate passed today a $963,797,478 navy appropriation for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Washington — (P) — President Roosevelt proposed today that congress accept his budget recommendation of $975,000,000 for WPA in the next fiscal year but grant him or the WPA commissioner authority to expend the entire sum in eight months if necessary.

Mr. Roosevelt wrote the speaker of the house that if the $975,000,000, scheduled for expenditure in the year beginning July 1, were spread over 12 months it would provide an average employment of only about 1,330,000.

The president said his budget estimate had been based on hopes for improved employment and business but that those hopes had not been entirely realized.

War Is Factor

Partly because it is impossible to tell how the European conflict will affect private industry and private employment, Mr. Roosevelt said, it was difficult to predict the employment volume for the entire 1941 fiscal year.

"In my judgment," he wrote the speaker in a letter read to the house, "the most logical action that the congress could take at this time would be to appropriate the budget item for the work projects administration but to lodge discretionary authority in me or in the commissioner of work projects to expend this amount in the first eight months of the fiscal year, on condition that employment conditions in the country are such as to require such expenditure within that period.

Won't Spend Needlessly

"I can assure you that if this discretionary authority is provided in the appropriation act, the appropriation will not be expended within the eight months unless it is absolutely necessary to avoid suffering and hardship."

In even his recommendations are accepted, Mr. Roosevelt said, the congress convening next Jan. 3 can deal with the necessity of providing funds for the last four months of the fiscal year, if necessary.

The first stage of the controversy will be in the house appropriations for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1.

At his press conference the subject of debt and taxes came up when Mr. Roosevelt was asked what might happen to the federal deficit, and public debt now approaching the $45,000,000,000 limit.

There were several possibilities to be considered, Mr. Roosevelt declared, even if congress does not grant his request for $450,000,000 of new taxes for which he then said he had abandoned hope.

As an example of appropriations which do not mean actual expenditures in the next fiscal year, the president mentioned farm parity payments.

Consider Contracts

Little if any of the appropriation voted for parity will go out in the 1941 fiscal year, he said. Asked whether that remark indicated he believed the parity payment item would be finally approved, Mr. Roosevelt said not necessarily.

Then he disclosed that there was some discussion at a White House conference yesterday with members of a house appropriations subcommittee of letting the secretary of agriculture enter into soil conservation contracts.

Those would represent, he said, an obligation, but the money would not be paid out until the start of the 1942 fiscal year.

Dies Says Situation In U. S. Worse Than Treason in Norway

Washington — (P) — Chairman Dies (D-Texas) said today that his committee on un-American activities was prepared to show that "in the United States we have a Trojan-horse situation" worse than the "treason" ascribed to Nazi agents in Norway.

Dies told newsmen the situation would be brought out at committee hearings and stressed the need of legislation he has proposed to force foreign-connected organizations to disclose their membership.

"I'm going to show," he declared, "that in the United States we have a Trojan-horse situation worse than Norway's with respect to having agents of foreign powers in key positions."

He referred, he said, to reports from Norway that treason had been possible German occupation of key positions.

The Texan declared that his committee had information that communists and Nazis had penetrated "the transport, communication, maritime, utility and steel industries, and navy yards and airplane factories."

TRIPLETS BORN WITHOUT DOCTOR'S AID

Born in an Aliquippa, Pa., kitchen without the aid of a physician and hustled to a hospital in a common roasting pan, these triplet girls today were reported getting along nicely. The stork delivered the girls 6 weeks ahead of schedule to Mrs. John Reed, 25, wife of a part-time steel worker.

The astonished father, in the midst of moving into a new 2-room cottage, said they'd probably keep the names nurses had given the babies—April, May and June. The triplets weighed 8 pounds 7 1/2 ounces. The mother, also doing well, said "I'm just a little tired." The Reeds have two other children.

Norwegian Seaman Says Bremen Sunk With 15,000 Troops

London — (P) — Exchange Telegraph British news agency, today quoted a Norwegian survivor of the torpedoed British steamer Stanchiffe as saying the German liner Bremen had sunk off Norway with 15,000 troops.

The agency quoted the seaman, named Rydningen, as saying that a telegram announcing safe arrival at a Norwegian port had been found in the Bremen captain's pocket and that it was sent to Germany by Norwegian authorities.

German authorities in Berlin last week denied earlier reports that the Bremen had been sunk early in the occupation of Denmark and Norway. Today authorized German sources said they had no information on the liner but that the latest report sounds like "the same old swindle which has been frequently revived by the British."

Rydningen was one of 16 survivors landed today at a northern port by a vessel which rescued them after they spent three days in an open boat. The bodies of six of their companions were in the boat.

The Stanchiffe, 4511-ton steamer, was torpedoed last Friday, with the captain and 13 others killed or swept overboard.

CIO Union Is Far Ahead in Voting

Wins Majority in 38 of First 43 General Motors Plants to Report

Detroit — (P) — The CIO's United Automobile Workers headed towards a decisive victory over their AFL rival union of the same name today as national labor relations board officials counted the ballots of letting the secretary of agriculture enter into soil conservation contracts.

Five plants, including Chevrolet and Fisher divisions at Norwood, Ohio, and Kansas City, Mo., and a new departure plant at Meriden, Conn., selected the UAW-AFL as their bargaining agent.

A tabulation of the total vote shortly after 1 p.m. C.S.T. showed the following: UAW-CIO 71,672; UAW-AFL 23,767; neither union, 9,622.

Jamesville — (P) — Workers at Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants favored affiliation with the CIO United Automobile Workers union in elections conducted yesterday by the national labor relations board.

At the Chevrolet plant, 757 favored the CIO, 169 the AFL United Automobile Workers union, and 42 voted for neither. There were 968 votes cast out of 1,032 eligible.

Seek 'Milk Can' Gang After Raid on Bank

Superior — (P) — Federal bureau of investigation agents today widened a search for a gang of "milk can" bank burglars who obtained $4,000 from the First State bank at Port Wing.

The Port Wing bank was invaded early yesterday by men who used the same tactics as the "milk can" gang which looted Minnesota banks in recent years. Water in the cans was used to cool burglary tools.

Port Wing, which has a population of about 250, is in Bayfield county.

Editor's note: J. Norman Lodge, veteran Associated Press reporter, slipped across the closely guarded Swedish border into northern Norway to obtain the following first hand account of the situation at Narvik.

BY J. NORMAN LODGE

Narvik, Sweden — (P) — British marines and soldiers are consolidating their foothold in northern Norway as Germans, driving Norwegian defense troops before them, retreat to the south.

I have just returned after a journey afoot through Norwegian frontier areas which took me to the outskirts of Narvik before I was arrested by British troops.

A show of my passport gave me freedom—but that was shortlived, as I was arrested again and turned over to the Norwegian military authorities back of Narvik.

Because I lacked a visa on my passport, I was ordered back to the border.

I was told that the British occupied Narvik, the ore-shipping port, and points north, south and east, after disembarking at Harstad, 30 miles up the coast.

DNB, official German news agency, said in a statement that the Germans are in Narvik "today, April 18, and are in possession not only of the harbor, but of the city." A further statement said that additional troops were being sent.

Two Given Two-Year Prison Sentences in Federal Lottery Case

Santa Fe, N. M. — (P) — Frederick W. Benduhn and Mrs. Mary DeRieux, New York residents convicted of conspiring to ship lottery tickets across state lines, were sentenced today to two years in prison and fined $10,000 each by Federal Judge John Nebett.

The sentence was the maximum possible under the conviction.

Two other persons convicted last night by a federal court jury which acquitted Mrs. Oliver Harriman of the same charge, received lesser sentences, as did Harrison J. Tharp of Denver, who had pleaded no defense.

Tharp received a sentence of a year and a day, the same as that assessed Mrs. Irma Hopper, Frank S. White was sentenced to six months in jail.

Mrs. Harriman, 66-year-old New Yorker, whose name was given to the organization through which the group unsuccessfully had sought to promote a New Mexico lottery two years ago, was not present in the courtroom this morning.

Hull Warns Japan as War Clouds Grow Over Pacific

Jap Leaders Make No Secret Of Desire to Obtain Indies

Threat Not New but Becomes More Serious as Result of War Developments in Europe

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
New York — (P) — Secretary of State Hull's warning (obviously directed to Japan) that the status quo of the Dutch East Indies must be respected, is a sharp reminder of the delicacy of the political situation in the Far East.

Blunt explanation of the anxiety for the safety of the Indies comes in the comment by authorities of the American, British and French fleets in Asiatic waters that there is "serious possibility" Japan may attempt to seize the East Indies if Germany occupies their mother country, Holland.

This situation, which is part and parcel of the Japanese conquest of China, isn't new but it has been rendered more acute by the trend of the European war.

Mr. Hull's statement presumably was inspired by Japanese Foreign Minister Arita's declaration Monday that Japan would be deeply concerned over any change in the status of the East Indies.

May Imitate Nazis
Mr. Arita's announcement was incoherent enough on the face of it, but observers immediately thought they read between the lines a tendency to take a page from the Nazi book.

Take First Step To Separate Two City Departments

Ordinance Re-Creating Commissioner's Post Ordered Published

The first step in the separation of the engineering department and the street department and the re-creation of the position of street commissioner was taken by the city council last night.

An ordinance covering the situation was ordered published and referred to the ordinance committee without discussion. The recommendation, which came from the street and bridge committee, was not discussed on the floor.

The proposed law will repeal the ordinance, adopted by voters in a referendum April 3, 1934, which effected the consolidation of the departments in an economy move.

The position of street commissioner will be re-created under the proposed law which stipulates that the commissioner shall be elected annually by the council and shall take office on May 1 each year.

Under the present set-up, the street department administration is handled indirectly by the city engineer through an assistant street commissioner. The separation move is a follow-up of action taken July 20, 1938, when building inspection was separated from the engineering department.

The vote ordering publication of the proposal was unanimous. On recommendation of the insurance committee, the council renewed the ordinance.

German Radio Reports British U-Boat Sunk

New York — (P) — The Berlin radio today reported that German planes today sank a British submarine along the west coast of Norway. After sighting the submarine the planes "dropped heavy bombs," the broadcast, heard here by XBC, said.

Governor or Senator-Heil Says It's Up to the People, but Office Holders Have Another Plan

Madison — (P) — Governor Heil, who has announced his candidacy for reelection, indicated today he might run for the United States senate, "if the people want him to."

At a press conference during which he discussed the administration's economy record, a proposed investigation of the conservation department, and other subjects, the governor said his political future rested with the "wishes of the people."

"The way I feel today," Heil said, "I will run for governor. If the citizenship wants me to run for something else that is up to them."

Asked if he would run against Senator Robert M. LaFollette in the state Republican convention urged him to, the governor replied: "I cannot answer that. I don't know whether I would run or not. That also is up to the people of the state."

He declined to comment on a proposed survey of his popularity sponsored by a group of Republican county chairmen.

He said he did not know when the conservation department probe, under preparation by the division of departmental research, would begin because preliminary work was still incomplete.

"I have no report and I don't know whether all the research work is finished," he said. "When they have finished and reported to me, I will take the action I see fit. Before that time there will be no publicity on it. You cannot have an investigation and have it in the daily press every day."

Asserting he had never estimated savings he could effect, the governor said there was "no way to tell how much" he had saved.

"I am going to get reports from my department heads every month; after this, and then we will know how much the Heil administration has saved," he said.

of wisdom as applied to the occupations of Norway and Denmark. You will recall that Berlin first remarked with indignation that it looked mighty like Britain and France were getting ready to invade these helpless countries. Immediately thereafter the Germans themselves invaded both these neutrals, remarking in effect:

"Sorry to have to do this, boys, but we are going to protect you from those allied bandits."

Now the basis of the suspicion that Japan might try to occupy the Indies "for their own good" has been provided by highly placed though unofficial Japanese themselves. They have made no bones of their desire to possess the Indies.

The fundamental reason for Japan's desire to possess these rich islands is the need of their oil and other products to help Japan in her drive to achieve self-sufficiency.

Would Dominate East
For the Nipponese are striving to attain the same thing that Germany is—a position of absolute independence of the outside world for supplies, especially those necessary for war purposes.

That, too, is one of the reasons for the conquest of China. Also coupled with this, of course, if the ambition to extend Japan's domains and dominate the Far East.

Now the corollary to this program is that the western powers shall be deprived of the vast influence, economic and political, which they long have wielded in China. The unwritten policy of the Japanese in their invasion of China has been that the westerners must go.

It was this in mind that in 1934, just after the virtual annexation of Manchuria, the Japanese proclaimed what amounted to a Monroe doctrine for the Far East: Japan assumed protection of that part of the world and invited outside powers to keep hands off.

It is under this Monroe doctrine which Arita has acted in insisting on the status quo of the Dutch East Indies.

Waupaca Man, 76, Killed in Crash

George T. Hoaglin Dies as Car and Truck Collide Near Wild Rose

Waupaca — George T. Hoaglin, 76, Waupaca, was killed instantly when his automobile and a truck sideswiped on Waushara County Trunk 22 near Wild Rose yesterday afternoon.

Hoaglin's daughter, Mrs. Carl Rasmussen, Weyauwega, was slightly cut, while Albert Summers, 40, Fremont, driver of the truck, escaped injury.

Hoaglin was driving a coupe and was returning to Waupaca with his daughter after a visit with relatives at Wild Rose. Summer's truck was loaded with logs. The accident occurred during a heavy snow storm and visibility was poor.

The victim was born July 14, 1863, at Almond, Portage county, and lived at Waupaca the last three years.

Besides the daughter, survivors were two brothers, Frank and Harry Hoaglin, Waupaca; and three sisters, Mrs. C. N. Radley, Wild Rose; Mrs. J. W. Rathe, Almond; Mrs. C. T. Scribner, Stevens Point.

Balkans Told Allies Do Not Offer Threat

London — (P) — The war office announced tonight that British troops had made contact with Norwegian forces in Norway and that "operations are proceeding."

The admiralty announced tonight that a German transport and a submarine had been hit in the Norwegian port of Bergen during an attack by British planes.

Rome — (P) — An exchange of military commissions between Germany and Italy already joined in a military alliance, was authoritatively announced here today.

The first members of the German mission already have arrived in Rome, where it was said their visit was "part of a general program under way since 1938, the purpose of which is to maintain constant contact between the armed forces of the two countries."

London — (P) — Prime Minister Chamberlain today gave assurances against any allied menace to southeastern European nations in the north Britain's forces by land, sea and air fought to break Germany's hold on Norway.

Following a hint to non-belligerent Italy by Minister of Economic Warfare Ronald H. Cross to watch her step and to Sweden that she might be the next target of Nazi lightning, Chamberlain sought to calm some of the war worries of southeastern Europe where Britain is launching an economic offensive.

He told the house of commons that British envoys to southeastern European nations had left or were leaving for their posts after some nine days of London conferences on "outstanding problems" there.

"No one of these states... has any cause to fear that the allies or

Swiss Ready to Fight Invasion

Proclamation Tells People Just What to Do in Event of Attack

Berne — (P) — The Swiss government and high command told the nation in a proclamation tonight exactly what to do in event of invasion, outlining a plan in which Swiss "Paul Revere's" would have a role in immediate nationwide mobilization to "prevent the country from becoming another Denmark."

The mere announcement that Switzerland has been invaded will mean automatic general mobilization of all citizens and all the nation's resources.

The notice was issued after the federal council called out an additional 60,000 militia troops, who must join the armed forces between May 6 and July 29, and studied police and security measures, including a closer watch on pro-Nazis.

Unlike the usual Swiss communalism concerning defense since the European war began, the proclamation carried no calming paragraph telling the public that no immediate danger threatened.

The council continued its study of police and security measures designed to guarantee the security of the country by a close watch on all extremist leaders and organizations in the country, especially on pro-Nazis who might try to become "Swiss Quislings."

Major Vidkun Quisling, the Norwegian Nazi who proclaimed himself premier after the German invasion, and other pro-Nazi Norwegian army officers have been the subject of much press comment in Switzerland.

Garner to Have 3 Badger Delegates. Returns Indicate

Madison — (P) — Delegates pledged to Vice President John Nance Garner will have three seats in the Wisconsin delegation to the Democratic national convention at Chicago, according to unofficial returns from the April 2 presidential primary.

With two counties missing, the secretary of state's office had not completed its official tabulations for the entire state but most of the district returns were in.

Awaiting sanction of the canvassing board were results showing that John E. Flanagan and John C. Dugan, LaCrosse, won out as Garner candidates in the Third district. Willis E. Donley, Menomonie, another Garner supporter, won easily in the Ninth district.

The complete third district returns: Flanagan, 6,966; Dugan, 6,299; William C. Evenden (Roosevelt-Farley), 6,291; Cecil Garvins (Roosevelt-Farley), 6,234; Patrick H. Hansberry (Roosevelt-conference endorsed), 5,601; Bart E. McGonigle (Roosevelt-conference endorsed), 5,812.

The count in the Second and Seventh districts was incomplete in the remainder the Keller said. Roosevelt supporters won five delegates and the Roosevelt-Farley group eight.

Must Guard Status Quo of Dutch East Indies, He Says

British and French Prepare; Japs Deny Plan to Attack

The Hague — (P) — The Netherlands government has informed Japan that it neither will ask any foreign government to protect the Netherlands East Indies in case the war should spread to Holland nor accept an offer of protection if it is made, it was announced today.

The Dutch received with guarded satisfaction the statement by United States Secretary of State Hull concerning the affairs of the Indies. There was no official comment on Hull's statement.

Shanghai — (P) — British and French forces in the Far East were making ready today for an eventual attack on the chance of a Japanese attempt to seize the Dutch East Indies in event of a German invasion of the Netherlands.

Authorities of the American fleet in Asiatic waters joined the allies in the comment that such action by Japan is a "serious possibility."

Tokio spokesmen, however, insisted today that Japan has no territorial designs against the Dutch empire and that the Japanese view coincides with that expressed by United States Secretary of State Hull.

The secretary declared in part that any alteration in the status of the Dutch East Indies "would be prejudicial to the cause of stability, peace and security... in the entire Pacific area."

Would Mean War
A neutral naval observer in Shanghai declared that a thrust by Japan into the Dutch East Indies would result in Japan's entering the war on the side of Germany.

"If the Japanese decide that the probabilities favor their success they may occupy the islands, using the same excuse as Adolf Hitler used in Denmark and Norway," this observer said, referring to the German explanation that the Scandinavian countries were invaded for their own "protection."

"If Japan could be certain that Russia would not jump on her back, it is highly possible that the Japanese would act," he said.

Naval officials said several factors favor the possibility of a lightning Japanese stroke to parallel any German drive into the Netherlands. They contend it was Japan's "unconcealed ambition" to gain control of the East Indies' oil, rubber and tin supplies to achieve independence of other sources of supply.

The Japanese navy, in contrast to the Japanese army, this source went on, has not been weakened directly by the war in China. The navy was praised as "cocky and full of fight" and as believing that its "easy landings in China could be duplicated in the East Indies."

There were reports that Japanese political agents have been active in shaping up an anti-Dutch campaign among East Indian natives.

Navy Convinced Japan Building 43,000-Ton Warships, Stark Says

Washington — (P) — Convinced that Japan is building at least 43,000-ton battleships, Admiral Harold R. Stark said today that the navy contemplated future construction of super-dreadnaughts of 50,000 to 52,000 tons.

The chief of naval operations told the senate naval affairs committee that he believed Japan was building eight of the large type vessels but doubted reports that 12 were now under construction by the island empire.

Earlier in a statement the navy renewed its advocacy of a major air and submarine base at Guam, tiny American island outpost 1,500 miles from Tokyo.

A Guam base strong enough to make enemy operations against it a formidable undertaking the navy department said, would tend to "stabilize the political situation in the Far East."

At the same time, the department rejected as "fantastic" any suggestion that the United States permanently station a fleet superior to Japan's in Far Eastern waters. The idea of a "two ocean" battle force was likewise dismissed.

Insurance Plot Seen In Attack Upon Woman

Detroit — (P) — The homicide squad claimed today that Mrs. Rose Wheeler, 26, who was beaten senseless with a hammer Tuesday, was the victim of an insurance plot conceived by Wayne Wheeler, her common law husband, and Russell Mitchell, a friend of Wheeler.

Inspector John O. Whitman said no formal charges would be entered until it was known whether the victim can recover. She is in receiving hospital, her condition critical.

Lieutenant Jack Harvill of the homicide squad said the men had admitted attempting to kill Mrs. Wheeler to collect $1,750 in insurance.

All Parts of 'Pacific Area' Included in 'Hands-Off' Stand

Washington — (P) — President Roosevelt expressed a hope today that the status quo in the whole Pacific area could be maintained in the interests of peace.

He stated his view to a press conference when asked for comment on Secretary Hull's statement yesterday that disturbance of the status quo would prejudice the cause of "stability, peace and security not only in the region of the Netherlands Indies but in the entire Pacific area."

Hull's statement, in effect, was a notice to other nations to keep hands off the Dutch East Indies.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters that Hull's declaration had covered the situation thoroughly.

Taking cognizance of Japan's expressed concern for the future of the islands should the European war engulf the Netherlands, Secretary of State Hull said in a statement last night:

"Intervention in the domestic affairs of the Netherlands Indies or any alteration of their status quo by other than peaceful processes would be prejudicial to the cause of stability, peace and security not only in the region of the Netherlands Indies but in the entire Pacific area."

As he issued his pronouncement, British, French and American fleet authorities said in Shanghai that a Japanese attempt to seize the Dutch East Indies in the event of a German invasion of the Netherlands was a "serious possibility."

Mentions No Nation
Secretary Hull mentioned no nation specifically, but he prefixed his statement with a reference to one made by Japanese Foreign Minister Arita on Monday expressing deep concern of the Japanese government for maintenance of the islands status quo.

Hull's statement was cabled to the United States embassy at Tokyo for presentation to the Japanese foreign office today as a matter of courtesy and information.

Official comment at Tokyo was that the statement coincided with the foreign minister's views on the subject. An admiralty spokesman declared Japan had "no territorial designs" on the Dutch possessions.

The United States depends on the East Indies for some of its most essential raw materials. American imports were valued at $93,150,000 in 1939, and exports to the islands totaled $35,598,000.

Concern has been growing in the East Indies over the progress of the Japanese "new order" program for Asia, and the Dutch possessions have spent more than $16,000,000 in the United States for military aircraft and other war materials in the last three years.

Hull's "hands off the East Indies" declaration was interpreted in diplomatic circles as revealing administration fears that something might happen to the Netherlands. Some officials are apprehensive that Hitler, if defeated in Norway, might turn on that country both to recoup prestige and to gain a base for attack on Britain.

With attention thus riveted on the possibility of war in the Pacific, the United States navy renewed its advocacy of a major air and submarine base at Guam, tiny American outpost 1,500 miles from Tokyo. This project in the past has brought sharp tactical protests from Japanese military circles.

'AMERICAN MOTHER'

Mrs. Edith Graham Mayo (above) of Rochester, Minn., widow of the famous surgeon Charles H. Mayo and mother of eight children, has been named "the American mother of 1940" to represent the nation's mothers in New York on Mother's Day.

Will Not Battle Favorite Sons in Their Own States

Roosevelt Apparently Puts Brakes on His Third Term Backers

BY W. B. RAGSDALE

Washington—President Roosevelt appears to have imposed at least one restriction on his clamorous third term backers. It is stay out of states which have favorite sons of their own.

The clamp used to lock the brakes on the third term drive in Texas is an example of the application of such a rule. The point is that the agitation has been held down in such states as Indiana, Tennessee, Montana, North Carolina and Alabama is further evidence that such a custom exists. All these have potential candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Some observers of national politics, however, insist that such a rule is not likely to have been laid down by the White House. They would not be so clear as to the president's attitude toward a third term. Most candidates stay out of the back yard of their opponents.

President Has Advantage

They reserve their fighting for open battlefields in which all contenders have an equal opportunity. In the case of a president, backed by state organizations and patronage, there is no such equality. No battlefields on which any other man in his party can meet him on equal terms. Nevertheless, the contest in which Mr. Roosevelt's name has been used are in states which have no candidates of their own—Illinois, Nebraska, California, Wisconsin, Oregon, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New Hampshire.

In Texas, the situation almost got out of hand before the White House stepped in.

Leaders say that Mr. Roosevelt has no disposition to fight with his vice president for the Texas delegation, that he is fully aware of the buttresses such a contest would engender; that he wants a harmonious delegation from Texas.

Larkin Winner In Final Count

Two Broughton Delegates Represent Eighth District in Convention

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Final complete returns from all precincts in the eighth congressional district compiled by the secretary of state's office yesterday afternoon show that Gerald Clifford of Green Bay and Bert L. Larkin of Two Rivers will represent the Democratic district at the Chicago national Democratic convention in June.

The final result of the district delegate election in the Democratic party was held in doubt in some quarters because the latest unofficial returns, with several precincts in northern counties missing, showed James W. Early of Green Bay only slightly behind Larkin.

Clifford and Larkin represented the "Roosevelt-Fairley" slate endorsed by the regular Democrats headed by National Committeeman C. E. Broughton of Sheboygan. Early represented the candidacy of Vice President John Nance Garner, whose delegates ran a poor third in the Democratic contest two weeks ago.

Clifford got the highest total of votes of the Democratic eighth district delegate candidates, 13,205, according to the complete returns from all precincts which have yet to be certified by the state board of canvassers.

Larkin got 9,645, and early followed in third place with 8,893.

A. D. Shimek, the second eighth district, Garner-pledged delegate, was fourth with a total of 8,761. Shimek is the Democratic assemblyman from Kewaunee county. (Visiting Madison yesterday, he indicated that he will seek reelection to the assembly rather than run for the state senate, which he was previously reported as considering.)

Delegates from the Democratic Party Organization of Wisconsin, insurgent group headed by Gustave Keller of Appleton, ran third in the eighth district although they garnered relatively large votes in the rest of the state, the final returns show. J. Norman Basten of Green Bay was fifth in the district with a total vote of 8,593, while Leo H. Schmalz trailed with 7,697.

Weather Holding Up Tree Planting Plans

Rhineland—(P)—A lingering winter is holding up spring planting plans for N. Let national forest ranger to receive an additional 2,000 seedlings over a 4,000-acre area.

Glen W. Pike, forest supervisor, reported that the plantings would bring to $300,000 the total set out in the forest since it was established seven years ago. Better than 80 per cent of the seedlings have survived, he said.

Red pine, white spruce and jack pine will be planted most extensively this year, although about 100,000 hardwoods also will be set out to provide game cover and food.

Much of the ground still is snow covered or too hardened. Planting is not expected to begin until late in April or early in May. Civil youths and WPA workers will do the actual planting, under supervision of Al Sump of the forest service.

TRONDHEIM GOAL OF BRITISH NAZIS

British forces, based at Narvik, were reported moving southward through Norway in a race with the Germans for control of the strategic port of Trondheim. German columns moved northward from Oslo and Bergen, the report said. Possession of Trondheim, western terminal of a trans-Norwegian railroad, is of great strategic importance. Other late developments include reported air bombardment of Hegra (A), the mining by the British of their own west coast (B), and the sinking of a British destroyer and submarine (C) reported by Berlin.

Reporter Asserts British Strengthen Grip on North Norway; Nazis Move South

Additional information received from Narvik early this afternoon reported the situation there unchanged.

The Germans are retreating southward, harassed by scattered Norwegian units, and the British are extending their hold in northern Norway.

I found British marines in possession of Elvegaard, 10 miles south of Narvik. They also have driven east from Narvik some 15 or 16 miles to Bjorknes, only a short distance from the Swedish frontier.

In between these points the British were established at Oyjord and Gratangen. They also were holding Elvegaardsmoen, five miles north of Narvik, and Harstad, their main point of embarkation 30 miles further up the coast.

Number of Skirmishes

As the nazis retreated they drove before them small units of the Norwegian army, with whom they engaged in a series of skirmishes. I succeeded in making my way into Norway with considerable difficulty.

After a 35-hour journey northward from Stockholm on a crowded, uncomfortable train, I reached the Swedish frontier town of Kiruna only to be told that I could proceed no further.

Kiruna is about 70 miles from the Norwegian frontier by the railroad, which continues on to Narvik, a matter of some 18 miles more.

I found that all foreigners had been ordered from Swedish border areas, especially foreign journalists with or without passes.

There was nothing to do except board a train for the return trip to Stockholm, but 50 miles south of Kiruna I slipped off at Gellivare, determined to get across the border somehow.

"Bonus" For Taxi Driver

A taxi-driver, unable to resist the promise of a bonus, finally agreed to take a chance on driving me the 120-miles to the frontier. By hiding on the floor of the taxi now and then I managed without incident to reach the border a mile north of Vass-Jaure-Ruksgransen, and stepped across in mid-afternoon without benefit of visa.

In a snowstorm, with snowflakes that seemed as big as marshmallows I tramped 15 miles or more to the outskirts of Narvik, traveling by wooded paths instead of the main road.

As I attempted to enter Narvik I was arrested by British patrols. I was released after displaying my credentials.

My freedom was short-lived, however. As I started out in the hope of visiting surrounding towns, I was arrested again and turned over to Norwegian military authorities, who insisted I must return to Sweden because my passport bore no visa.

Saw Nazi Patrols

During the trip back to the frontier, escorted by Norwegian soldiers, I saw several German patrols about five miles from the Swedish line, as well as scattered Norwegian troops.

We arrived unmolested, however, and I was turned over to Swedish authorities. With 250 Norwegian troops who had crossed the frontier and been interned, I was taken back to Kiruna and held there under guard until I could be put aboard a train for the south.

The conductor was directed to see that I did not leave the train this time until it had reached Vannas, 280 miles south of Kiruna.

Five Swedish sailors who were in Narvik when the Germans took over the town but succeeded later in making their way to the border gave an eye-witness account of the naval battle which ensued on the arrival of the British.

They said they had seen two German warships sunk by British planes which bombed the harbor district, and had seen several others driven ashore in Rombak fjord.

40 Million Pounds Of State Surpluses Purchased by U. S.

Madison—(P)—Frank C. Klode, director of the department of public welfare, announced today the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation bought 40,140,869 pounds of surplus farm commodities in Wisconsin during 1939 for approximately $647,100.

The welfare department, he added, distributed 34,957,000 pounds of food purchased in Wisconsin and other states and donated to the department by the FSCC. The recipients included an average of 60,500 families on relief rolls and approximately 17,600 children in 232 schools where hot lunches were served.

Purchases by the FSCC in Wisconsin included 3,540,000 pounds of dry skim milk; 62,160 cases of evaporated milk; 62,160 barrels of wheat cereal; 123,175 barrels of corn meal; and 260,000 pounds of salt pork.

Worst 'Rubber' Check Brings Cash, Dress

Portland, Me.—(P)—Police have what they deem the nonpareil in "rubber" checks.

Printed by hand on plain paper, it was drawn for $20 on a non-existent "Boston School Trust Company." The names of a signer, payee, and endorser were the same and all were handprinted.

A dress shop clerk accepted the "check" in payment for merchandise and gave a man $9 in change, police were told.

Review Bill Gets Wiley's Approval

Administration 'Has Rabid Dislike' for Proposal, He Says

Washington—(P)—Support for the Walter-Logan bill to permit court review of federal decisions came today from Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) who said the administration was "rabid in its dislike" for the proposal.

"This legislation, pending in the house, has been endorsed by judicial committees of both houses and passed the senate without a dissenting vote," Wiley said in a statement.

"But the long hand of the administration has the bill in its clutches. This will focus attention on the almost uncontrolled wonderland of federal bureaucracy.

"The bill merely provides what we have always taken for granted—that when a head-strong government agency pulls the average hardworking businessman into a vast labyrinth of rules and regulations he shall at least have the recourse of an appeal to a judicial body."

"It blasts the new deal idea that a government agency can be both prosecuting attorney and judge. It requires that there must be a court—an impartial court which doesn't have a stake in the case as the administration does."

Representative Hawks (R-Wis.), in house debate on the bill, declared it was needed to regain legislative and judicial power from federal agencies.

The measure would standardize procedure of federal agencies and permit appeal to federal courts from their decisions.

"The bill," Hawks said, "is an effort to maintain constitutional government by recognition of the legislative, and administrative, and judicial branches of our government."

Proposes Bonuses to Encourage Aviators

Washington—(P)—A proposal to encourage student flyers by awarding bonuses of $50 when they make their first solo flight and an equal sum when they have logged 10 hours has been made by Senator Clark (D-Idaho).

He introduced yesterday a bill authorizing an annual appropriation of $100,000 for payment of such awards.

Student pilots who had already soloed when the measure became effective would be awarded $50 for passing the 10 hour mark and $50 on logging a total of 20 hours.

Among other bills introduced were those by senators:

Lee (D-Okla.)—Authorizing appropriation of $10,000,000 for correlated flood control works by the agriculture department's soil conservation service and army engineers on the watersheds of the Rio Grande and Pecos river in the southwest; the Washita river in Oklahoma; Trinity and North Concho rivers in Texas; Fountain River, Colo., and Kickapoo river, Wis.

Spencer Will Build Waterworks System

Madison—(P)—The application of the village of Spencer, Marathon county, for authority to establish a water utility will be studied at a hearing here April 26, the public service commission announced today. Construction of a waterworks was approved in a referendum April 2 by a vote of 182 to 116.

Cars driven by Merrill Bailey, 30, 1530 N. Harrison street, and Mike Germain, route 1, Menasha were involved in a collision at an Appleton street intersection at 7:30 this morning. Bailey was driving south on Harrison street and Germain east on Brewster street when the collision occurred, according to police.

BUDDY POPPY FOR PRESIDENT

Seven-year-old Betty Jane Van Loon went all the way from Eaton Rapids, Mich., to Washington to present President Roosevelt with the first Buddy Poppy of the 1940 sale of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. With her as she made the presentation was Otis N. Brown, of Greensboro, N. C., national commander-in-chief of the organization. Betty Jane lives at the VFW national home for widows and orphans at Eaton Rapids.

Psychology Is Biggest Factor In Grain Prices

Chicago—(P)—The wartime grain market is offering American farmers higher prices for 1940 crops than they have received the past two seasons, due chiefly to the psychological effect of Europe's conflagration.

No part of the price upturn that has occurred since September—40 cents a bushel in wheat, 16 cents in corn, 12 cents in oats and 23 cents in soybeans—can be traced to any increased European demand upon domestic agriculture, grain experts said today. In fact, the war so far has restricted rather than expanded clearing of American grain surpluses to Europe.

Nevertheless, amid talk concerning means of stimulating the flow of farm products abroad, grain prices have stiffened, not only because of war but also, in the case of wheat, because of the prospective small domestic harvest and unfavorable crop conditions in Europe. In the case of corn, withholding of 500,000,000 bushels from market under loans has been a factor.

Men Who Fled Prison Camp are Re-Captured

Rhineland—(P)—Donald John, 31, Rhineland, and Arthur Luin, 24, Eau Claire, who escaped from the state prison camp at McNaughton early Tuesday morning were captured last night at a summer home on Blue Lake within a few miles of the camp. They offered no resistance and said they were "glad to be caught."

During the two days they were free they lived on wintergreen berries and swamp water, a diet which made them ill. Both men will be returned to the Waupun prison today.

Scout Leaders Look Ahead to Weekend Gardner Dam Parley

Valley council scout leaders, clad in rough clothes, will toss some blankets and canned goods into the car Saturday afternoon and set out for Gardner Dam to attend the annual spring scouts conference.

Clarence H. Engberg, council executive, estimated today that close to 80 scout leaders of the council will spend the weekend at the camp on the Wolf river, mixing talks on scouting with hikes and inspections around the council property.

Troop operation will be the theme of the weekend and the men will be organized along the lines of a scout troop. A "troop meeting" will be held Saturday night, culminating in a demonstration tenderfoot investiture ceremony. Discussion leaders for Saturday night and Sunday are Chris Larsen, Fred Duprey, and Engberg. Appleton and Lloyd Pinkowsky, Clintonville, outdoor projects will be demonstrated Sunday morning.

Engberg reported the sessions will start at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon and continue through the dinner hour, until about 9:45 that evening. They will be resumed again at 9:30 Sunday morning and last until 2 o'clock that afternoon.

Wesley Olsen, Neenah, will be the scoutmaster of the mock troop with Larsen, Pinkowsky, and Duane Cole of Appleton assisting.

Orville Yingling of Kaukauna will be senior patrol leader. Other patrol leaders will be Walter Foster, William Gust, Duprey, and K. Pinkerton, Appleton; Ed Banker, Little Chute; Owen Kittlo, Kaukauna, and Lee Forest, Marion.

Salvation Army to Hold Annual Drive April 29 to May 3

William L. Crow, Mrs. Clara McGowan Head- ing $4,000 Campaign

The Appleton Salvation Army chapter will hold its annual drive April 29 to May 3, it was announced today.

William L. Crow is general chairman for the drive and Mrs. Clara McGowan, co-chairman. The three majors are E. W. Shannon, the Rev. G. H. Blum, and R. L. Peterson. The goal in the drive is $4,000, Crow said today. The money goes for the numerous charitable activities of the Salvation Army in Appleton, including transient relief, family service, and assistance to indigents.

Adjutant T. A. Raber of the chapter said today that the motto for the appeal will be "Serving Humanity."

Each of the three majors will select four captains and each captain will name four lieutenants, according to the campaign plan.

Captains selected by the majors will hold a meeting Monday night, April 22, in the Appleton Y. M. C. A. All campaign groups will meet in the "Y."

The drive will extend over four days, beginning April 29, Friday of that week, the fifth day, will be devoted to "cleaning up" the last details.

Motorists Fined for Breaking Parking Law

Acting Municipal Judge Fred V. Hemmaman Tuesday afternoon fined four motorists $1 and costs each for violating the city parking law. They are Dan McCabe, 2091 S Douglas street, D. E. Eisele, 1735 N Morrison street; Margaret Walsh, 516 W Sixth street; and Arthur Krock, 1330 S Onocida street.

William Gehring, route 1, Appleton charged with double parking, was fined $1 and costs. The fine was remitted upon payment of costs.

Propose Constructing Curb at Intersection

The Outagamie County Safety council Tuesday night at the courthouse instructed the engineering committee to meet with the county highway committee and recommend the installation of a curb along the parking lot at the intersection of Highways 76 and 45. The curbing would prevent motorists from driving from the parking lot onto the highways except at driveways.

Indian Faces Trial On Charge of Rape

Commission Awards Fuel Oil Contract To Chicago Company

The Appleton water commission Tuesday awarded the contract to furnish 90,000 gallons of fuel oil to run diesel engines at the purification plant to the Falley Petroleum company, Chicago. The firm's low bid was 3.97 cents per gallon.

Niles and Barth, Appleton, received the contract to do the service trenching for the water department this year. The bid was 20 cents per foot.

The commission approved a plan involving a charge of cost plus 25 per cent for making water connections in the village of Belle Heights. The plan will be offered for the approval of Belle Heights officials. Appleton water department workmen will make the connections under the plan.

THE AID ASSOCIATION FOR LUTHERANS

The Aid Association for Lutherans recently announced that, having over 200 million dollars of insurance in force, it is now the fifth largest fraternal life insurance organization and the 63rd largest among all the 469 legal reserve life insurance companies on the North American continent. It also is the largest legal reserve life insurance society in Wisconsin.

The whole community is proud of the tremendous progress made by this Appleton institution in the 38 years of its existence. From a beginning in one small office, with the officers as the only employees, the Association has spread into forty states and the Dominion of Canada, carrying the name of Appleton over the entire continent.

Such a record of progress is not accidental; it could be accomplished only by combining an ideal with energetic and foresighted management. In the whole history of the Association, there has been no mushroom growth; just steady consistent progress that has enabled it to maintain a solvency record that is the admiration of every insurance organization in the nation.

While Appleton is justifiably proud of this institution, its interest is more than academic, because the Aid Association is one of the largest employers in the city. More than 100 persons are at work in the home office here, and another 350 persons are engaged in field work. The payroll of the Association is a highly important factor in the commercial life of the community. Thus Appleton has a real monetary stake in the welfare of this institution and its employees.

The record of the Aid Association is another proof that it is not necessary for organizations of this kind to be located in large cities in order to be successful. There is no reason to believe that the Aid Association might have accomplished more in its 38 years had it been located in Chicago or Detroit or some other large city rather than in Appleton. And during these 38 years the officers and employees have enjoyed the many advantages which the small city offers over the huge metropolis.

Appleton, it would seem, is an ideal location for organizations of this kind which are not dependent upon geographical location for their success. A great many of the factors which industry must consider in selecting a location are of relatively minor importance to an insurance company, while the factors which industry might ignore, such as ideal living conditions and educational advantages, would be particularly suitable for the personnel of this type of institution.

We believe that the people of this community are unanimous in extending congratulations to the Aid Association for Lutherans upon its great record, and in wishing it continued and increasing success. It would be a fine thing for all of us if we had more institutions of this kind in our midst.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN GERMANY AND AMERICA

They support the fiction in Germany that the Weimar Constitution adopted after World War No. 1 still lives. We say "fiction" as the following episode will demonstrate.

A German recently pointed to that constitution as giving him certain rights that Hitler-made orders had brushed out of the way. But the court of appeals at Breslau decided:

"Today's constitution is dominated by the principle of political leadership. The courts therefore have no right to decide upon the legal validity of political acts of the administration."

"There has been a very noticeable attempt in this country to also dominate our constitution 'by the principle of political leadership,' which, we may say in passing, is not a principle at all but merely an expression used to mask the public plunder of personal or individual rights."

In that one little quoted paragraph from the court of appeals sitting at Breslau you have the burning distinction between Germany and America, between servitude and freedom, between a despotism and a democracy, between people herded, ordered and driven as cattle and people free to think, speak and act as they please within the broad and generous law, they have enacted themselves.

The Breslau decision should find full approval in Kluxer Black's eyes.

LINCOLN AND HIS DREAMS

The attention of the country turned again last Sunday night to Ford's Theatre in Washington for it was the seventy-fifth anniversary of the assassination there of Abraham Lincoln.

With the deep feelings of affection and compassion of which Lincoln was capable it was, we suppose, a natural expectation that the war would bring him many actual nightmares. And so it was according to his own statement.

But there is also shed strange light upon the dream world, which none of us can explain, when we learn that Lincoln had what he called his ship dream which had been repeated in identical fashion before four of the war's great battles which turned into four of the Union's great victories.

As Lincoln detailed this dream he seemed to be at sea in a vessel that was swept along by an irresistible current toward a great and churning maelstrom from which it appeared that no power could save it. Faster and faster the whirling and irresistible waters swept the vessel toward the vortex down which it must certainly plunge. But in the midst of the deafening roar of the waves and the equally definite sensation of sinking down into unfathomable depths Lincoln woke. He had said that it was always a terrifying nightmare that brought him joy upon his awakening because of its sense of victory.

At the time he last had this dream the night before his assassination Lee had already surrendered but Sherman was still hot upon the heels of General Johnston, the last important southern commander to hold the field. Lincoln said upon his last day on earth that his dream the night before possibly meant that Sherman had won, as, indeed, he had although the news was still upon the way.

It was not a bit of mysticism upon Lincoln's part. He was too practical a man for that. Probably he realized that his mighty feelings when concentrated hopefully upon an event so devoutly wished caused the mental condition that gave birth to the dream.

And yet it still remains a matter of some astonishment that precisely the same dream was occasioned each time a momentous victory was at hand.

Practical people will attribute the last nightmare to the expected news from Sherman but those more upon the mystical side will lay it to the victory of death, the stealthy approach of the assassin with a pistol and martyrdom down through the ages.

A NEW BROOM ATTACKS AN OLD PROBLEM

Mayor Zeidler of Milwaukee started out in office well.

He advanced no mystical hocus-pocus, no unintelligible jargon of mysterious words, to mark the course for the betterment he proposes to establish.

He said that a city cannot become one where the people own their homes and live in an atmosphere of friendliness and contentment when taxes are so high that many are encouraged to wreck buildings in order to lower assessments rather than erect buildings to welcome taxes.

That is sensible. But it remains to be seen whether the mayor has enough backbone and courage to stick to it.

Nothing so much resembles the head of a large family of contrary children as the mayor of a city in his attempt to handle and appease the active churning minorities out with a chisel and hammer to get what they can.

And yet in spite of sharks and shoals, of whirling tides and razored reefs, we are a brave people since we continue to build in pretty courageous fashion despite the danger that a property, unemployed or unrented, can sink its owner with its cost of overhead, with surprising speed.

We congratulate Milwaukee's new mayor upon his sensible speech. He doesn't pretend to be an Aladdin with a wonderful lamp. His political philosophy is that we can only have what we produce and, strange to say in this eighth year of the New Deal, that if we destroy something we haven't got it.

But we have heard speeches before, even more flowery ones than that of Milwaukee's new mayor, and when we have compared the words with the actions we have been unable to recognize that they both proceeded from the same source.

PROMOTIONS FROM THE PRAETORIAN GUARD

Senator Norris occasionally gets the New Deal into a dither by pulling aside the curtain and telling some of the truth about it.

Recently in the senate he labored hard though ineffectively to sidetrack the creation of nine new federal judgeships.

Most if not all of these new jobs are mere political creations to reward the faithful. One of them has been given to the state of Ohio in spite of a round robin signed by all the federal judges there that "there is no need" for an additional judge.

But those 300,000 extra payrollers on the Praetorian Guard who have averaged only about $100 a week each need to be stirred and stimulated by ambition in this year of election. And every time one of the hopeful pulls down a $10,000 or $12,000 a year plum the others are all fired into the belief that maybe sometime and some day, under the Great Humanitarian, they may go and do likewise.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington—Privately, the Norwegian government wishes that United States diplomat Daisy Harriman were not such a speedy worker. Within a few minutes after she was told by the Norwegian foreign minister, "We are at war with Germany," Mrs. Harriman had the message on the wires to the state department.

Now that message threatens to cost the Norwegians ten million dollars.

What the Norse did not foresee was that such a statement was tantamount to a declaration of war, which automatically invokes the United States neutrality act, immediately embargoes credits to Norway, and prevents their getting the ten million dollars already pledged to Norway by the Export-Import bank.

The message from Minister Harriman came through in the small hours of Monday morning, April 8, and ever since, the state department and White House have been debating whether or not to invoke the neutrality act.

Actually they would like to hold off, in order to let Norway get the credits. So it is explained that the statement cabled by Mrs. Harriman, "We are at war," was a first-blush statement to which Norway does not want to be held. This is the point stressed by the Norwegian minister in Washington.

In the case of Finland the neutrality act never was invoked, and United States credits continue to move. But Finland made no declaration of war, and Roosevelt avoided finding "that a state of war exists."

In the case of Finland, also, Roosevelt knew that he had public opinion behind him. But the case of Norway is different. Its invasion is not isolated, like the Russo-Finnish conflict, but clearly is a part of the major operations between the allies and Germany. To withhold application of the neutrality act might be regarded as a flagrant connivance, arousing the indignation of the Hiram Johnson isolationists.

Meantime, the Export-Import bank is holding a total of $50,000,000, previously committed to five countries in the Scandinavian group. This includes the $10,000,000 for Norway; $20,000,000 for Finland ($10,000,000 having been disbursed); $15,000,000 for Sweden; $10,000,000 for Denmark; and $5,000,000 for Iceland.

Viewing the possibility that these credits may never be disbursed, one official of the bank said, "We save a lot of money, don't we?"

EVIE AND DEWEY

Beauteous Evie Robert, wife of the secretary of the Democratic National committee, came up to handson Tom Dewey at a reception the other day and said:

"I'm Evie Robert. I couldn't get anyone to introduce you to me, so I'm introducing myself."

"My gosh," replied the leading Republican candidate, "I didn't know you looked like this."

Afterward someone asked Mrs. Robert what Dewey was like. Replied she: "Like any little man who has a big blonde come up suddenly behind him."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Oregon Legionnaires are booming the real brains of the war department, Louis Johnson, for vice president. . . . Hitler may have sewed up Italy in his war kit, but he can't be so sure of Russia now. The Moscow press suddenly has taken on a skeptical tone about the invasion of Norway. . . . Eight presidential candidates were gathered under one roof, that of Publisher Eleanor Modill Patterson, after the Gridiron dinner.

They were Earl, Dewey, Vandenberg, Justices Roberts and Douglas, Bruce Barton and Henry Wallace. . . . For once Martin Dies got hold of something when he pointed to Communist-Nazi propaganda in Mexico and Central America. Official reports bear him out in this. . . . Sunday along F Street, famous shopping thoroughfare of the nation's capital, is dull. But every Sunday noon you will see the newest justice of the Supreme court, Frank Murphy, strolling up from St. Patrick's cathedral, looking in the store windows. . . . The still bachelor justice, just turned 50, is living in a three-room suite in a downtown hotel, but he is looking for a house, preferably in historic Georgetown.

SALONIKA ONCE AGAIN

The move to watch for as Italy prepares to jump is the occupation of Salonika, famous allied embarkation base during the World war.

The French and British have planned to use Salonika once again as the port at which to land General Wiegand's 300,000 French troops, plus the Anzacs, in a drive through the Balkans to prevent Germany from capturing Rumania's oil wells.

However, the Hitler-Mussolini strategy (and they seem to be working closer and closer together) is for Italy to reach Salonika first.

This is why the Italian fleet is now in the Aegean sea, sitting squarely between Syria and Salonika. This is also why Mussolini's puppet radio speakers and editorial writers have been whipping up the Italian people—who are not at all enthusiastic over war.

A Verse for Today

By Anne Campbell

TOMORROW IS MY DAY FOR WORRY

Tomorrow is my day for worry!

Now the robin sings,
Down the lane the sunbeams hurry,
And my spirit spreads its wings.

Tomorrow is my day for pining!
Now the daffodil
In the morning sun is shining.
Springtime crowns the waking hill.

Tomorrow is my day for grieving!
Now the petaloid gold
Of the blossoms is relieving
Sorrow every heart must hold.

Tomorrow is my day for worry!
When the glad earth hums,
I recall (and dark thoughts scurry)
That tomorrow never comes!

Opinions of Others

THE CENTRAL FACT

The central fact which needs to be kept in mind in labor legislation and in administration of labor legislation—as in much else that has been attempted in Washington under the Roosevelt administration—is that the economy of this country is based on free private enterprise. If anyone proposes a different system, he is within his rights and is entitled to urge his views. But no considerable body of people has proposed a different system. The administration has not proposed a different system. And no other other system has been established. We have an economy based on free private enterprise, and we have no present indication that we shall soon shift to any other system. If we have a system of economy based on free private enterprise, it follows that the private control of private property is legitimate, and it also follows that the private use of private property for the making of profits is legitimate. This is not an elemental and it is all obvious. But this has not, in practice, been fully and honestly recognized by all those concerned with the administration of regulatory boards.—Baltimore Sun.

Not the Official Organ

Editor Post-Crescent—I noted an editorial comment in your paper of March 30th respecting an editorial on Mark Catlin in the "Wisconsin Sportsman."

The reason for your statement was that this paper is described as "the official organ of the Wisconsin Conservation Congress."

This conclusion on your part is apt to be misunderstood, but I think the status of the "Wisconsin Sportsman" and the Wisconsin Conservation Congress should be explained.

The Congress, in its last meeting in July, unanimously endorsed the "Wisconsin Sportsman" as its official publication. The form of this connection was drawn up by the Executive Conservation Council, which designated an advisory editorial board and drew up a written understanding with Mr. Jackson. Under this agreement the council had editorial authority, collaborated on the editorial policy of the paper, contributed articles and comments and reported news and announcements of interest to the members of the Congress. The Council likewise assisted in subscription campaigns and occasionally advised on business matters.

Recently, because there has been question as to the definition of the duties of the Executive Conservation Council, and to a certain extent the Congress, this agreement between the Council and the "Wisconsin Sportsman" was discontinued and will be discontinued until some specific action is taken on it at the next meeting of the Congress.

Wiley is coming in view of the unanimous sentiment of the Congress, the "Wisconsin Sportsman" is probably within its rights in acting as a reporter of news items and events which have to do with Congress matters. However, it must be understood that since the Council took this action in its last meeting, its advisory editorial board exercises no authority or responsibility for the editorial policy of the "Wisconsin Sportsman."

Several of us who at first recommended the official connection between the Congress and the "Wisconsin Sportsman" are of the opinion that the position of both the "Wisconsin Sportsman" and the Wisconsin Conservation Congress would be stronger and less apt to be misunderstood by having them thus separated. My personal opinion is that there is a very definite place in this state for a conservation periodical which is completely independent of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission Department, its personnel and most of all those politically-minded and selfish politicians who are far more concerned with their own welfare than they are in the advancement of a progressive conservation program. Members of the Council have felt that should some of these politicians be called by the "Wisconsin Sportsman" it might unjustly reflect against the non-political aspect of the Congress and the Council.

The history of a definite attempt to sabotage the present conservation set-up in the state by cheap, sniping articles is a point at issue. The "Wisconsin Sportsman" in my opinion has done a laudible service to the citizens of the state in this connection. This does not necessarily refer to Mr. Catlin. Many of the conservationists of the state felt when Mr. Catlin was a first appointee to the Wisconsin Conservation Commission that he would furnish constructive leadership, something which the conservation activities of the state definitely need. I must say, while it is too early yet to form a final opinion of Mr. Catlin, that to date his activities in conservation interest have been extremely disappointing. It appears that he has unwisely allowed himself to be beset by political and selfish aims.

My feeling in this matter is not necessarily based on his opposition to the personnel of the present administration, but rather on the fact that he has not so far produced any tangible reason whatsoever to justify his attitude and actions except personal differences of opinion. Certainly Mr. Catlin, as a commissioner, should be in a position to find out if the present administration is as bad as he has indicated and if he truly believes it, he should certainly be able to produce some facts to support his stand. The needs of conservation in this state are great, and I am still hoping that Mr. Catlin is of the calibre to see them and take some constructive step towards carrying them out.

I make no brief for the present Wisconsin conservation set-up except that to date practically everybody who has been trying to bust it up have been seeking political positions, many of whom have not too savory a record behind them. For the most part I think the character of the enemies and their activities have certainly worked towards solidifying the support of the conservation minded citizens of the state in the interest of the present conservation program. I shall certainly have faith in it until there is some tangible evidence on which to base a change of opinion.

Very respectfully yours,
J. A. Riegel, M. D.
St. Croix Falls, Wis.

Chairman of the recent Advisory Editorial Board of the "Wisconsin Sportsman."

J. A. R. T. L.

MILK IN GLASSES

Always rinse glasses that have held milk in cold water before washing them. Otherwise they might have a cloudy appearance or take extra time to shine when drying.

"WELL, IF YOU KNOW OF A BETTER 'OLE, GO TO IT"

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—The wise men of state politics see signs that the turn of events in far away Europe may have powerful implications for Senator Robert M. LaFollette and his reelection campaign.

It is a commonplace that Wiley is coming in view of the huge population of Scandinavian origin has for decades been one of the most important group elements in the Progressive party.

The question key Progressives are asking is the probable effect of the traditional LaFollette isolationist stand on the strong Scandinavian vote in the 1910 elections.

Even at this early stage, there is an accumulation of evidence that if Senator LaFollette upholds the isolationist sentiment of the LaFollette family over 40 years of politics, that big bloc of votes upon which the Progressives have always depended so strongly may go slithering away.

One of the most significant utterances by any Progressive party leader in many months was the recent public blast by W. T. Evjue, strong party leader and of Norwegian origin, as a consequence of the German invasion of Norway. Evjue sounded the tocsin for a pro-Allied sentiment which appealed to the huge Scandinavian population of southern Wisconsin, but which stands in strange contrast to the careful and deliberate isolationist spirit which has always characterized Progressive leadership, and upon which Evjue himself started his climb to political power and fortune during the World War period two decades ago.

LaFollette is in a difficult position. He voted against the lifting of the arms embargo. So did Wiley, who is the son of Norwegians. But Wiley is not running for reelection this year. Here appears an open split between Wiley and a man who because of his independence and his control of the only Progressive daily newspaper in the state, is important as an ally. LaFollette's campaign is not starting off auspiciously, it is apparent.

There is a significant background to Senator Kenneth White's exceptionally early public announcement that he is a candidate for lieutenant governor.

The lieutenant governorship is not an office which politicians of ten seek for itself. Senator White does not want it because it is important, for it isn't. He has a more important office now. Nor is he particularly fond of parliamentary work. Real reason for his candidacy, Republicans report, is the probability that he cannot be reelected to the senate this year, coupled with the idea that the lieutenant governorship will be an admirable stepping stone to the first place job a little later. Mr. White is ambitious and realistic. A term in an unimportant office may not look very interesting, but a young man can afford to plan his time systematically, which is exactly what the western Wisconsin youngster is doing, it appears.

JOHN'S CANDIDACY

Congressman Joshua L. Johns of the Eighth district will go before the Republican state convention in Green Bay next month with a considerable number of delegates favorable to his candidacy for the United States senate, his friends report.

Johns would like a convention endorsement, and some of his supporters are now searching out feeling in the organization to determine what the prospects for their favorite are.

At the same time it develops that young Harlan Kelley, prominent heretofore principally as a Republican organizer and orator, is "interested" in the senate, and will make a try for it if he gets any considerable encouragement. That he will, however, is exceedingly problematical, with such bigger names as Fred Clausen, Fred Zimmerman, Walter Kohler, and others occupying Republican minds.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

ASSORTED WHEEZES

It is regrettable that the great Dr. Osler was so thoroughly imbued with the belief that cold, damp and changeable weather was in itself a cause of respiratory disease. In his lifetime Osler was virtually canonized as a doctor (teacher) and his famous textbook "Practice of Medicine" is commonly called the "doctor's bible." Not only did Dr. Osler point to his student, the world over, the great belief in the old idea of cold, damp and changeable weather as a cause of respiratory disease, but he also reported in his great biography, directly attributed to his own final illness, that he died in a cold lecture room.

This characteristic Oslerian statement in the "Practice" written fifty years ago, still carries the weight of unquestionable authority in the minds of doctors who do not do much thinking.

Chronic bronchitis is frequent in the aged; the young are rarely affected (climate and season) have an important influence. It is the winter cough of the aged, recurring with regularity as the weather gets cold and changeable. Owing to the more uniform heating of the houses, it is much less common in Canada and in the United States than in England.

Now, before we begin quarreling I request that you bear in mind that I regard youth or old age as a state of mind and not a matter of years. So I have no illusions about the outcome of an argument with any old geezer, medical or lay, who accepts the opinions, views or teachings of Osler or any other authority as infallible and final. But I have said many times before, in this column the aim is to embolden the young ones in controversy over as many health questions as possible, and let the old ones cling to their queer concepts as fondly as they wish.

Without bandying words—and words are all the old timers or great "authorities" can bandy to support their funny notions about exposure to cold, dampness and changeable weather—I'll say simply that it is my belief and teaching that exposure to cold, dampness and changeable weather, wet feet, drafts or sudden chilling of the body or any part of the body after overheating or sweating has nothing whatever to do with respiratory disease. Take it or leave it, without any exception or modification. I mean just what I say. If you choose to reject my teaching, that is all right with me. Unless you can accept it without reservation you will derive no particular benefit, save perhaps some amusement, from further reading of these articles on coughs and wheezes.

It is my belief that the actual cause of bronchitis and other respiratory disease which the old timers ascribed to climate, season, cold and changeable weather, drafts and chilling, is the excessive drying out of the air indoors by artificial heating. And further I believe that ample experience with modern air conditioning in the past five or ten years has as early as possible proved this to be so. On the other hand the universal experience of arctic and antarctic explorers, hunters, woodsmen and others exposed to the severest cold, wet and sudden changes makes the idea of the old timers seem absurd.

In the next talk on this subject I'll waste a few words to clarify the question of exposure to cold "lowering resistance" and "disposing to infection"—and the most important word will be No.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Quinine a Good Tonic

Following your suggestion "Quinine an Excellent Tonic" I have been taking two grains three times a day and deriving much benefit. Would it be advisable to continue?

Considerable encouragement. That he will, however, is exceedingly problematical, with such bigger names as Fred Clausen, Fred Zimmerman, Walter Kohler, and others occupying Republican minds.

For a month I have been daily four calcium waters each containing in addition to calcium 750 units of vitamin D. Also drinking two quart milk daily and also taking 150 drops of vitamin D in oil (250 units per drop). Now have feeling of weakness and lach on face. (P. S. W.)

Answer—That would amount to more than 6000 units of D daily—which, I am sure, is not excessive for any one. Your feeling of weakness and lach on face are probably not related to the calcium or vitamin D intake. For over a year I took 10,000 units of vitamin D with breakfast every morning, just to see experienced only excellent health.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO

Thursday, April 17, 1930
Mrs. Carl Neidhard, 939 E. Eldorado street, was one of the many Wisconsin women delegates attending the Daughters of the American Revolution convention then being held at Washington, D. C.

Gregory Lenz was reappointed fire chief and Dr. J. H. Doyle was reappointed health officer at the special meeting of the Little Chute village board that week.

A life-size three-quarter portrait in oil of F. P. Sensenbrenner, Neenah, had been hung in the First National bank at Neenah. The portrait was by Frank O. Salisbury, a British artist.

25 YEARS AGO

Thursday, April 22, 1915
Judge Thomas H. Ryan, who was to retire from the office of municipal judge May 1, and Attorneys Paul V. Cary and Julius P. Frank were to form a partnership.

While the budget for city expenses had not been completed, it was expected there would be no reduction because of extensive street improvement projects.

Italian officers in Switzerland had been ordered to be ready for a sudden call. The German admiralty had announced a British submarine had been destroyed April 17 in a bay in the North sea.

Post Talks Before Advertising Club

Describes Trends in Merchandising. Function Of Sales Promotion

Hal Post, nationally known sales specialist, addressed 35 members of the Appleton Advertising club last night at the Conway hotel.

Post, who was one of the organizers of the Appleton club, talked on "Changing Trends in Merchandising and the Function of Sales Promotion."

He described changes that have taken place in the public's buying habits, the need for modernization of stores, and the new types of competition that have arisen. Other subjects on which he dwelt included price levels, publicity, and advertising.

Post formerly was with the Pettibone-Peabody company and left Appleton in 1928 to become head of the Post Visual Training System and Distribution. At present he is living in Waupaca where he is working on a series of books on sales promotion.

Kansas Leans Toward GOP but Missouri Is for Democrats in State-Wide Tests of Opinion

BY DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J.—Kansas, which went Democratic in 1936, even though it was the home state of Alf M. Landon, shows signs of returning to the Republican fold in a state-wide survey by the Institute. The trend away from the Democrats there has been so sharp that, in any political dope sheet, Kansas would have to be listed as a Republican state at this time.

Its next door neighbor, Missouri, continues to lean Democratic by a substantial margin, however. Despite the recent setback to the Democratic machine in Kansas City, Missouri sentiment is nearly as strongly Democratic today, the study finds, as it was in the past Presidential election and in the more recent congressional election of 1936.

Kansas and Missouri are the twentieth and twenty-first states in which the American Institute of Public Opinion has completed previews of party sentiment in recent weeks. The results have shown six of these 21 states leaning Republican, and 15 leaning Democratic at the present time. A round-up report on all of the 48 states will be published at the end of the week.

The Missouri results indicate that there has been some shift of sentiment away from the Democrats, but not a large shift. Roosevelt carried the state four years ago with 61 per cent of the major party vote—or 3 per cent more than the present Democratic percentage in the survey. In 1936 the Democratic vote cast for Congressmen in the state was 59 per cent, and for Senator (Bennett Clark) 61 per cent.

In Kansas, however, the shift away from the Democratic party has been dramatic. Roosevelt carried the state in 1936 with 54 per cent. Two years later the Democrats were in the minority in the voting for Governor, Senator and Congressmen, polling 44 per cent in the Senatorial race, and only 41 per cent in the Congressional balloting. The present Democratic strength—44 per cent in the Institute survey—is a full ten points below the Democratic vote in 1936.

The Kansas and Missouri study, based on the question, "Which party would you like to see win the Presidential election this year?" follows:

Kansas Voters

Favoring Republicans . . . 56%
Favoring Democrats . . . 44%

Missouri Voters

Favoring Republicans . . . 42%
Favoring Democrats . . . 58%

In both states approximately one voter in every eight said he was undecided at this time what party he favored.

The Missouri results indicate that there has been some shift of sentiment away from the Democrats, but not a large shift. Roosevelt carried the state four years ago with 61 per cent of the major party vote—or 3 per cent more than the present Democratic percentage in the survey. In 1936 the Democratic vote cast for Congressmen in the state was 59 per cent, and for Senator (Bennett Clark) 61 per cent.

Intramural Teams Play Round Robin Tourney at School

Sixteen intramural volleyball teams now are playing a round robin schedule to determine the champions of Appleton High school. The teams are divided into two leagues, the American and the National. A final play-off between the winning teams of each league will end the tournament.

Wednesday's schedule of games calls for contests between the Cubs and the Phillies, the Red Sox and the Dodgers, the Bees and the Giants, the Cubs and the Dodgers, the Phillies and the Giants and the Reds and the Bees. On Thursday the White Sox will play the Yankees, the Tigers the Indians, the Red Sox the Senators, the White Sox the Indians, the Red Sox the Tigers and the Yankees the Senators.

Tournaments also are being drawn up by William Pickett and Lawrence Witzke, boys' physical education instructors, in tennis, golf and horseshoe. Play will begin within the next week.

Beethoven's Second Symphony Feature in Orchestra Concert

THE Lawrence Symphony orchestra, directed by Dr. Percy Fullinwider, presented its annual spring concert at Memorial chapel last night. Featured on the program were three movements from Beethoven's Second Symphony in D Major. The second movement, Larghetto, with its pure lyric beauty, was particularly grateful in last evening's performance.

Enjoyable also was Weber's Overture, which closed the program and Harold Johnson's "Phaon"—a miniature symphonic poem inspired by the Greek legend of Phaon and the goddess, Sappho. Two violinists, Miss Ruth Mewaldt of Waconia, Minn., and Miss Charlotte Brooks of Crystal Falls, Mich., students of Dr. Fullinwider, made first appearances as soloists with the orchestra. Both gave evidence of unusual talent and presented highly commendable performances of the selections assigned them.

Other selections included by Dr. Fullinwider on the interesting program were "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach, the descriptive piece, "The Lake at Sunset," by Maganini and the delightful Strauss number, "Where the Citrons Bloom."

INSTANT COLD-WATER SUDS SAVES STOCKING COLOR!

Women rave how new type suds keeps hosiery colors keener and brighter... Not a soap and thus contains no alkali to fade colors. An amazing improvement on even finest soap flakes because it suds perfectly in cold water.

EVERY woman knows how tough hot water and soap-scum can be on stockings, woollens, and all fine things. But here's a thrilling new Vel... the amazing new cold-water suds perfected by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company... does away with these enemies of fine fabrics.

Vel is not a soap. It is an entirely different washing principle. Vel is one hundred times as soluble as soap in cold water. Vel contains no acid or alkali to damage and fade colors and Vel leaves no soap-scum to dull colors and make silks cottony-looking. Thus, Vel is ideal for all fine fabrics, because it dissolves instantly in cold water to make mountains of billowy, cleansing suds.

See your stockings keep their delicate sheerness and fresh color amazingly longer when done in Vel's cold suds. See woollens and underwear regain bride-like freshness.

IN HARD-WATER TOWNS
U. S. Government Survey shows thousands of communities listed as "hard-water" towns. If your water is hard, Vel suds is light you more than ever because Vel makes hardest water act soft as rainwater.
Vel outlasts pure soap & 2 to 1 in hardest water.
Vel makes as much as 8 times more suds than expensive soap flakes in hardest water.
VEL IS A NEUTRAL HYPOALLERGENIC DETERGENT

Try VEL AND YOU'LL NEVER GO BACK TO SOAP!

MacDowell Chorus, Preparing For Annual Concert, Operates Under Strict Attendance Rule

BY NELL CHAMBERLAIN
WHETHER there is any connection between voice pitch and qualities such as stability and steadiness, a survey of Appleton MacDowell Male Chorus shows that the turnover or change in personnel is greater in the tenor section and smallest in the bass. Of the 65 singing members at the present time, 14 are charter members, having been with the group since its organization six years ago. Seven of these are in the bass section. Charter members of the chorus are Louis Waltman, Jr., Chester Davis, Delmont Bradford, Arno Seifert, Orme A. Stach, Maurice S. Lewis, Karel Richmond, A. H. Falk, Elmer C. Rehbein, C. M. McEathron, B. H. Russell, Earl Belling, J. G. Mohr and Melvin Knoke. The club members operate under strict rules, one of the most important being that a member is automatically dropped after being absent from rehearsals three times without cause. All of the music the group sings is memorized. The members pay dues and the new men pay an initiation fee, all money being used toward the expense of running the chorus. The chorus has a library of over 5,000 copies of songs.

The chorus will give its annual spring concert next Tuesday night at Lawrence chapel. Persons holding associate membership tickets may exchange them for reserved seats anytime after 7 o'clock Thursday evening at Belling's drug store. For the last four years the house has been sold out weeks in advance.

Ballots Puzzled Many Wisconsin Voters April 2

County Clerks Report Many Erroneous or Defective Votes Cast

Milwaukee — (T)— Reports from county clerks indicated today that the complexity of the ballots in the April 2 primary bewildered many Wisconsin citizens. Numerous errors resulted.

Moreover, thousands of persons were so confused that they refrained from voting for delegates to the Republican or Democratic national conventions.

The teachers tenure referendum also proved a stumbling block. The ballots were particularly troublesome to Eau Claire county residents. 15,296 of whom went to the polls. Of these, 5,197, or more than one-third, either did not vote for district delegates to the nominating conventions or made errors in marking. The same thing occurred 4,741 times in the delegate-at-large race, and 2,543 times in the teachers tenure referendum.

John H. Nygaard, Eau Claire county clerk said many voters did not see sample ballots and, after looking over the long list of delegates, gave up. Others, casually noting that they could vote for four delegate-at-large candidates and two for district delegates, proceeded to vote for six delegates-at-large or four district delegates and two delegates-at-large.

Vote For Too Many
J. A. Schindler of Wood county, reporting 370 defective ballots in 23 of Wood county's 49 precincts, said the number was far above any in recent elections. The majority of errors was made in voting for too many candidates.

Although only 168 spoiled ballots were reported in Oneida county, half of the precincts did not mention them. One city ward in Rhineland had 92-90 of them Democratic and 2 Republican.

Three slates of Democratic delegate candidates were in the field. Two were pledged to President Roosevelt, the other to Vice President Garner. Tickets pledged to Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan fought it out in the Republican primary.

Approximately 720 spoiled ballots were reported in Manitowish county. County Clerk Albert Tetzlaff said the percentage was much larger than in general elections. He estimated that 3,000 of the 15,000 who went to the polls did not vote for delegates.

Referendum Puzzle
Miss Lennie Hardie, Racine county clerk, said the teachers' tenure question caused considerable trouble for voters. Of 21,484 ballots cast in the referendum, 623 were blank and 5 were defective.

On the other hand, Clerk Sylvia Fero of Rock county reported, "Only a few defective ballots were found here—about the same number as usual—but we have made no count of them."

"The number was insignificant. Everybody in Rock county seemed to understand how the election was conducted."

The Dane county clerk said that the spoils were small in the few precincts reporting on it. He added that for some years the county has had few defective ballots.

No Official Reports
In many counties, election workers did not make reports on the number of ballots which were thrown out. In others, including Sheboygan, Fond du Lac, Portage and Winnebago, few defectives were found.

Poll workers themselves were responsible for a number of errors in Milwaukee, where the voters themselves made comparatively few. The officials' failure to initial ballots caused the most trouble.

In one Marinette county precinct, 107 absentee ballots were not counted because they were not notarized properly. The vote in that precinct, the town of Silver Cliff, was 215.

Clarence W. Lengacher, clerk of Green county, said the total number of defective ballots, based on reports from 27 out of 41 precincts, was large, but in "at least the last eight elections."

"There is room for improvement in the methods used by poll workers," he asserted.

Sodality Meets at Waupaca Residence

Waupaca—St. Mary's Madeline's Sodality met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Lovinski, at 2 o'clock. Assisting the hostess were Mesdames Jean Jensen, John Blockel, R. Stolz, B. Grossman, R. Clinton and Miss Mary Donahue, all members of the April hostess committee.

The recently organized junior choir of St. Mary's church will meet Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for its first rehearsal. Mrs. James Carew, organist of the church, will direct the choir.

Special prayers are to be offered Sunday, April 21, for Bishop Paul Peter Rhode of the Green Bay diocese, for his recovery to health and for the serious condition of his eyes. Bishop Rhode recently underwent a serious operation.

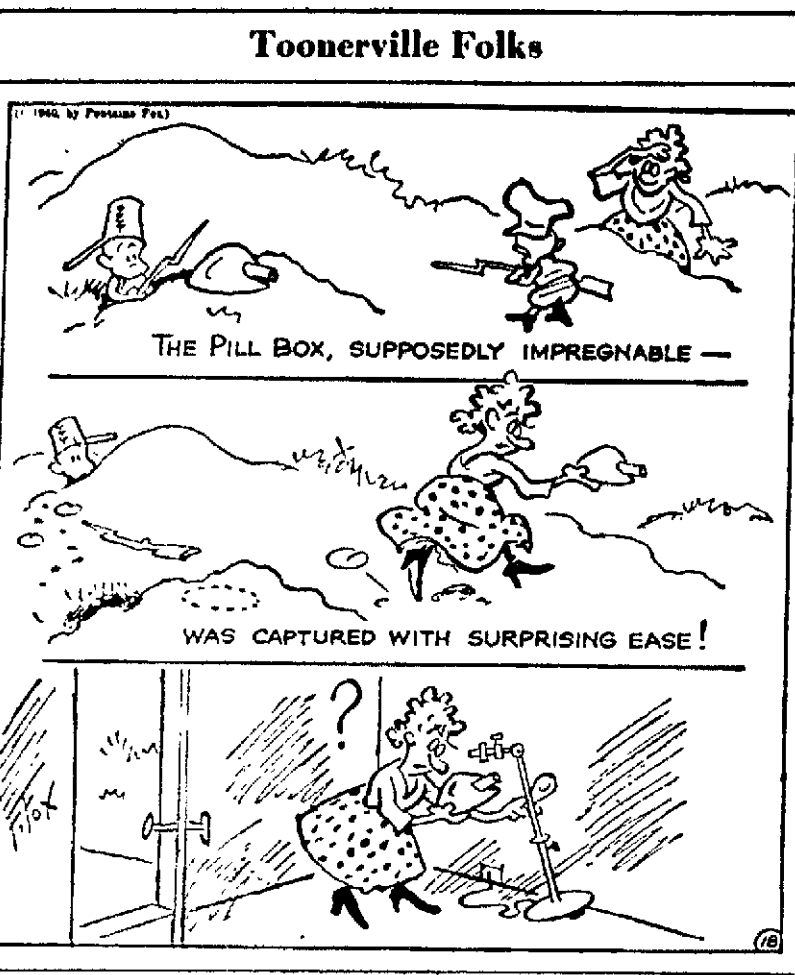

A bake sale is scheduled for Saturday, April 20, at the Behnke Meat Market, sponsored by the April committee for the sodality and on Saturday, April 27, the same committee will have a rummage sale in the social hall of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Behnke returned this week from Hot Springs, Ark., where they spent the last six weeks.

Rep. Gehrman of Wisconsin Learns Time Waits for No One

Gehrman: "Mr. Speaker, this is an extraordinary occasion, and just want a minute or two to say something about a couple of children that were rescued in Finland."

Rayburn: "Without objection, the gentleman may address the house for one minute."

ed the bond for the city treasurer at $50,000, had the amount carried in the past. The contract was given to the Fidelity and Deposit Insurance company, registered by Jean Balliet. A bond of $1,000 was placed on the city clerk and another $1,000 on the chief of police. Bonds, carried in the past on the assessor, the engineer, plumbing inspector and attorney were not renewed.

Alderman VanderHeyden, known in city circles as the "guardian of the treasury," sponsored a motion to give away $150, a motion which startled his fellow aldermen.

Plan Objected
Alderman De Land, in his maiden talk as Fourteenth ward councilman said he was surprised at Alderman VanderHeyden for being in favor of giving away $150, which went to the Veterans of Foreign Wars to help that organization secure the 1941 state encampment for Appleton.

"You vote against every 10-cent article and now you want to give away $150," Alderman De Land said. "This sort of thing is going on all of the time and now it's time we call a halt. It is not the city's place to finance these enterprises, for the city at large gets no benefit. It's the taverns, restaurants, and hotels who derive the benefit from conventions and they're the ones who ought to pay."

The council voted 16 to 2 to give the money to the Veterans. Alderman De Land and Alderman Thompson voted "no."

Argue Over Sewers
Another argument developed when the council voted approval of the plans for sewers on Reid drive from Douglas street to Connell street and on Connell street from Reid drive.

Alderman VanderHeyden objected because he claimed the property owners who would benefit would not pay the full cost of the sewers.

"Just who is going to absorb this extra cost," he said. "We just got stuck for about $7,000 for sewers in the depressed section at the northwest end of the city."

Alderman Botan, representing that section, told Alderman VanderHeyden that he wouldn't have to pay all of the cost, that the expense would be spread over the entire city.

Alfred Wickesberg, city engineer, explained that although an 8-inch sewer would be adequate in that area now, it would not be good policy to install such a sewer because it would cost more.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ganz, Hartford, will spend the weekend with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon Valentine.

Mr. and Mrs. Reslo Havenor, Rhineland, are spending a few days with the former's brother Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Havenor.

Mr. Otto Ziebell accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Pelton to Milwaukee Tuesday.

Mrs. Emil Jorgenson and three children are guests at the home of her mother, Mrs. John Jardine. Mr. Jorgenson, former agricultural agent of Waushara county, is now an instructor in the department of agriculture, Madison.

Allied Cooperation in Attempt To Crush Austria Described in War Stories of 25 Years Ago

BY VIOLA HELLERMAN

On two great battlefields 700 miles apart, the allies were cooperating during the second week of April, 1915, in a mighty attempt to crush the Austrian army and force Austria-Hungary to sue for peace. The Russians were pressing forward into Hungary, with the Austro-Germans in retreat, and the Germans were unable to send more reinforcements there, because the fierce drives of the French around St. Mihiel made it necessary to hurry reinforcements to the western front instead.

Various reports indicated that Hungary was in a state of terror over the Slav invasion and was demanding that the dual monarchy ask a separate peace.

Revival of reports that Germany, "having abandoned hope of a smashing victory," had informally intimated to the United States a willingness to discuss peace plans met with no confirmation, however, in official quarters at Washington. And by the end of the week it was apparent that the situation of the central powers was not as bad as it had appeared earlier in the week.

Reading reports of the first World war in their daily newspapers 25 years ago this month, Appleton residents saw no indication that the conflict was even approaching an end.

Stories of German aggression that paralleled those that made headlines this month were included in the war news. Wild reports that both Germany and Holland were quietly massing troops along the Dutch-Belgium frontier coupled with rumors that Germany was about to invade Holland reached America April 8, 1915. In diplomatic circles it was said Holland had requested Germany for a full explanation of the recent seizure of Dutch boats bound for England with food cargoes. The Netherlands government was waiting for an answer to the note. No more mention was made of the situation during the week, however.

Lull in Carpathians
After a fortnight of desperate mountain fighting, the two opposing Russian and Austro-German armies in the Carpathians halted their operations temporarily because of sheer exhaustion. Within another 10 days, Russia believed, the czar's troops would hold the Carpathians and every gateway into Hungary over a front of 80 miles.

Two days later a semi-official statement from Petrograd declared the Russians were on the offensive on a 200-mile battle front leading along the Carpathians and to a point near the Roumanian border.

Confining its news releases to the situation at the western front, Berlin reported April 8 that the French, renewing their fierce onslaughts between the Meuse and Moselle rivers, were suffering enormous losses.

Paris retaliated by saying that the German trenches were so choked with German corpses that the French troops were unable to occupy them after they captured them.

"Enormous Losses"
A few days later German war department officials claimed that the new French attempt to crush the German wedge between the Meuse and Moselle rivers had been defeated "with enormous losses." The next day Paris admitted that the French troops had not yet "resumed the offensive," but that the process of redistributing French regiments for the second phase of the great battle continued.

Most interesting item of naval warfare news during the week was the report that a German squadron had escaped the blockade and had engaged a British flotilla off the coast of Norway south of Bergen. Reports of the engagement came from several Scandinavian ports but the British admiralty flatly refused to comment on the report.

The bombardment on the Turkish forts at the Dardanelles, which already had proved costly for the allies, brought more grief during the week. Two of the allied war ships, it was reported April 14, were so badly damaged that it was probable they would be out of commission for at least a month.

He said that he could not say what his attitude toward the idea would be in the event that Zimmerman declines a chance to be re-elected to his present office for a chance to run for the United States senate.

Office Holders Planning to Run

other states officers consent to run again for their present jobs.

Principal obstacle, it appeared, is Zimmerman, who is reported by intimates as wavering between running for reelection to his present office, and becoming a Republican candidate for the United States senate against Senator LaFollette.

The plan is supposed to have originated with Goodland; who has been asked by the governor to change his mind about retiring from public life. Goodland said that he would consent to do so if all other officers run together; because he feels that "if I have made a wonderful record since the legislature adjourned," "I would not be a candidate on behalf of an administration which has been a failure," he commented this morning.

"I got the idea that it would be a good thing for all five constitutional officers to go to the people on the record of the administration," he said.

He said that he could not say what his attitude toward the idea would be in the event that Zimmerman declines a chance to be re-elected to his present office for a chance to run for the United States senate.

Snow Falls but Pike Still Bite

Storm Fails to Dampen Enthusiasm of Anglers At New London

New London — A heavy, sticky snow in mid-afternoon Wednesday failed to slow the enthusiasm of pike fishermen on the Wolf river here and the fish gave slight notice to the adverse weather, striking for minnows as profusely as ever. A dozen boats remained on the river along E Wolf River avenue all afternoon and some fishermen started out fresh at the height of the snow-fall.

Limit catches were being made in three or four hours yet yesterday and veteran anglers predict at least two weeks of the best pike fishing seen in these waters for a number of years.

While most fish taken on the opening day were milkers and the spawners caught were still with spawn, catches yesterday were about equal and most spawners were empty.

The glory of Reuel Phillips, 12-year-old pikester who hooked a 25-pound sturgeon Monday and wanted to mount it, was short-lived when the fish was confiscated by a deputy warden. A promise to give the boy first chance to purchase the fish was lost in a transfer of the booty among conservation authorities and the specimen was sold to a local restaurant owner instead.

Clear Weather in Blizzard's Wake;
Mercury to Rise

Snow Melts Rapidly Today After Storm Hits City, Vicinity

Glistening in the bright sunlight, water dripped off roof edges today in Appleton and vicinity as snow from last night's surprise blizzard melted rapidly.

The weather provided another of its contrasts, blue skies and sunshine only a few hours after a strong wind and whirling flakes had changed the countryside completely. Inhabitants of the city, returning home from work late yesterday afternoon, struggled against a blinding snow flurry and through heavy slush. Traffic was slowed. Not until late in the evening did the storm subside.

Rising temperatures and cloudy skies are predicted in this area tomorrow by the Milwaukee weather bureau.

At noon today the thermometer atop the Post-Crescent building stood at 45 degrees. Yesterday's high was 41 and the minimum, 31.

Rain or snow fell on most of the eastern half of the United States today as a low pressure system moved eastward, the Associated Press reported from Chicago.

The precipitation area covered most southern portions from the Rocky mountains eastward to the south Atlantic states and most northern portions from the upper Mississippi valley eastward to the Atlantic coast.

Rainfall was heavy over a wide area. Snow ranging from a trace to 3 inches fell in parts of Michigan, southern Wisconsin and northeastern Iowa.

Freezing temperatures occurred last night southward across the Texas Panhandle and in parts of northern Missouri. A reading of 22 at Hinckley, Minn., was the coldest in the nation. Light frost was forecast for tonight in Illinois and Indiana.

A general rise in temperature tomorrow was expected throughout the middle west.

Outlines Plans for Army Field Training

Springfield, Ill. (U.P.)—Adjutant General Lawrence V. Regan outlined today plans for the most extensive field training maneuvers in the history of the Illinois national guard.

The training period will be from August 10 to 31. General Regan estimated 30,000 troops would be billeted at Camp McCoy for war games on the army's 50,000 acre reservation.

National guardsmen from Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, and regular army troops from those three states and also from Missouri, Indiana, Kentucky and Minnesota will participate in the 21-day battle problem under the direction of Lieutenant General Stanley H. Ford, commander of the sixth corps area.

New Organization,
Spirit of 1776, to Be Formed Friday

An organization meeting of the "Spirit of 1776," a group pledged to curb communism, fascism and nazism, standing for Americanism and opposing to having American troops fighting on foreign soils, will be held at 7:30 Friday evening at the courthouse. The meeting will be open to the public and officers will be elected.

Wilbur Bogan, who is in charge of arrangements for the meeting, will act as temporary chairman. William F. Hegner, Appleton attorney, will give a talk on "Communism."

Farmers' Meeting Is Held at Little Chute

Little Chute—A meeting of the farmers of this vicinity, called by County Agent J. F. Magnus, was held at the village hall Tuesday afternoon. It opened with a short address of welcome by Martin Lamers, president of the Little Chute Business association. This was followed by a talk and the showing of movies of eastern Wisconsin relative to good and poor crops by Mr. Magnus.

He stressed the importance of keeping complete farm records not only from a financial viewpoint but also to know which crops were producing income and which were not. Record books were given to each one present by the local Business association. J. Follette of the Wisconsin agricultural department of records of Madison also gave an address. His talk also was on the importance of keeping records. After the meeting refreshments were served.

Taking of Testimony
Is Continued in Suit

Taking of testimony was continued today in circuit court in the suit for $18,245.30 by Gust W. Ristau, Kaukauna, against the New York Life Insurance company. The case opened Tuesday before Judge Joseph P. McCarthy. Ristau claims the amount is due him under disability provisions in two insurance policies held with the insurance company.

Chinese Missionary
Will Talk at Temple

Roland Shang-Yong Lawler, native Chinese missionary now in the United States in the interest of China's Christian mission and relief of war refugees, will speak and show motion pictures on "Undeclared War in China" at 7:30 tonight at the Gospel temple. He was orphaned when six months old, and was rescued by Mrs. Emma B. Lawler, American missionary to China for 29 years. He will show pictures of land and aerial bombing of Shanghai, Nanking and Canton and close-hand fighting at the battle of Pagoda hill, the evacuation of civilians, attack and sinking of the U. S. S. Panay, and the art and culture of China.

their forces will ever threaten their independence or integrity," he said.

In the north, the air ministry announced two air raids on Stavanger, German-occupied Norwegian port, in extended aerial operations in which Stavanger also was bombed by British warships.

German airplanes were destroyed on the ground and in the air and runways were struck with bombs. The British announced, while in overwater operations a German submarine was hit and a supply ship attacked.

Official silence continued on the activities in Norway but it was pointed out that the first moves likely would be to sever German communication lines.

The press reiterated speed was of the utmost importance in giving effective aid to Norway both to halt the German conquest and to influence Italy.

The house of commons also looked even further afield—to India where the congress party had demanded complete independence.

Italy Warned
Sir Hugh O'Neill, parliamentary undersecretary for India, told the house acceptance would mean "complete severance of India from the empire."

In a speech at Sheffield last night Cross declared that Italy "must be have as a neutral" if she wished to be treated as one.

And warning Sweden that Germany might attack her within the next month to grab vital Swedish iron ore, Cross said "let Sweden see to it that she is not taken by surprise."

D. A. V. Unit Honors
Memory of Veteran
By Taking His Name

The Appleton chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War has voted to adopt the name, "William F. Speel chapter," Robert Gmeiner, commander, announced today.

The late William F. Speel was a former commander of the organization, which has been known in the past as the St. Michael chapter.

Gmeiner further announced the appointment of Oscar Kuhn as acting sergeant-at-arms and Henry Busman as acting chaplain. The chapter will meet May 7 in the courthouse.

Watching Italy
Balkan newspapers are stressing dispatches saying that "Italy's hour for decision is near," and southern European nations are said to be placing less faith in Italy's influence toward keeping Germany out of the Balkans. The Italian press has suddenly presented a strongly pro-German view of the war and belittling the allies' military strength.

Cross described the new Italian press tone as "hostile" and added: "That makes us reflect upon the attitude of Italy toward us."

Military observers, however, expressed the opinion that Premier Mussolini would be more impressed by the thundering guns of the royal navy off the Norwegian coast and the allied expeditionary force to Norway than by diplomatic language.

Informed observers in London declared that the allied strategies realized the importance of speeding assistance to Norway not only to keep the Germans from consolidating their positions but also to convince the neutrals that the allied forces are able to deal a knockout blow on the battlefield.

Hungary, Rumania and Yugoslavia, apparently cooling in their dependence upon Italy to help them.

It Is Said--

A muskrat that fell through the grate in front of a College avenue market about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning drew plenty of attention.

It so happened that a passerby saw the animal fall through the grate at the early morning hour. Later that morning it became something of a curiosity and there was considerable argument as to just what kind of animal it was, a certain faction holding it was a ground hog. It's identity finally established, the muskrat was rescued by a conservation warden. The animal was taken out through the basement windows of the store.

Twin Lakes Council
In Meeting at Iola

Iola.—The Twin Lakes council, Boy Scouts of America, held its monthly meeting at the clubhouse of the Iola Winter Sports club Tuesday evening.

Harry Heitz, Oshkosh, scout executive of the Twin Lakes council and Dr. A. M. Christofferson, Waupaca, president of the council, were the principal speakers.

Burdett, also of Manawa, was appointed chairman of the advancement committee for Waupaca county. Attorney Seward Kiestue and Clifford Osteron of Scandinavia were present at the meeting and announced that plans were being made to organize a scout troop in that village.

Plans were completed at the gathering for the annual Boy Scout steak fry to be held at the Twin Lakes camp on Friday, May 23. The Waupaca county scout camporee will be held at Manawa June 6, 7 and 8, at which time scouts will establish and maintain a camp for public inspection for three days. # Pegler Fears Americans are Being Duped by Nazi Cunning

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—I have never been able to confirm this, because the performers refuse to hold still in my presence, but I have read, and willingly believe, that birds sometimes become hypnotized or fascinated by snakes and, with wings to fly, are unable to stir. They just twitter their silly heads off until a certain psychological moment when they become all unbuttoned from sudden realization of the horrible thing that is about to befall them. And then it happens.

Although I never have seen this, I am willing to believe that it can and does happen, because it has happened recently in Europe, and the early stages of the same phenomenon are now proceeding in the United States. The Norwegians knew that the German people, and they understood in their hearts that to be conquered by the nazis meant subjugation and the destruction of their civilization. But, even knowing this, and with the tragic examples of Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland to warn them, they still twiddled, and in the final hours were struck dumb and helpless. They couldn't even stir, and some elements of their nation actually helped the monster to devour them.

This is happening in the United States. There are many Americans who, like the Norwegians in the presence of the nazis, still insist that the Germans mean no harm to those who do not attack them, when it is written throughout Hitler's book and his speeches, and all the propaganda of his hideous revolutionary machine, that the Germans are by race the chosen people, selected by the German god to conquer all others by treachery and cunning at first and finally, by a stab of the fangs which dulls the senses and reduces the victims to helplessness.

If it is to be argued—and it is argued—that the Norwegians had permitted the British to violate their neutrality and had thus invited attack or 'pacification' surely it will not be claimed that Czechoslovakia was a victim of the same error, and yet Czechoslovakia fell in the same way to the ambitions and obsessions of the chosen people.

Cast About for Reasons Not to Believe Intelligence

Many Americans are casting about for reasons not to believe their own intelligence. England conquered the Boers, England persecuted Ireland and England twice made war on the United States but none of these truths alter the fact that in the last few months—so recently that the spectacle is still fresh and the graves of the dead have yet to sprout their first green fuzz—the chosen people of Adolf Hitler first poisoned and then devoured independent nations under better spiritual and intellectual ability than the Germans. If the

Family Discord Cases Increase

Divorces, Annulments in State Higher Than They Were in 1938

Madison—A total of 3,673 divorces and annulments were recorded in Wisconsin during 1939, an increase of 105 over 1938 and 326 below 1937, the state board of health announced today.

Involved in the family discord were 4,428 children. Counties in which more than 100 decrees were granted included Milwaukee, 935; Dane, 200; Ozaukee, 189; Rock, 152; Waukesha, 137; Dodge, 135; Washington, 117; Kenosha, 108; Racine, 104; Winnebago, 103.

Nearly 80 per cent of the petitions granted were filed by wives. Cruel and inhuman treatment was the sole complaint in 2,415 of the successful actions. Forty-four per cent of the decrees dissolved marriages launched in other states.

As usual, the board said, the first year of married life proved the most difficult, with 438 decrees, ending unions of less than a year's duration. In 68 cases the couples had been married more than 39 years.

Perhaps you are wondering where the "catch" is. You wonder how a complete laundry outfit like this can be sold at such an amazing, low price.

Well, there is absolutely no "catch." It only goes to show what can be done in the way of a bargain when four manufacturers get together and "pool" their efforts in giving the dealer a real deal to offer his customers.

And the wonderful part of this special combination offer is the fact that every one of these five items is a sound, dependable piece of merchandise. The washer . . . the electric iron . . . the ironing board . . . the twin tubs . . . and the laundry soap . . . all carry the same guarantees of satisfaction as though they were purchased individually.

So—if you want to take advantage of what is unquestionably the biggest value ever offered in this line of merchandise—come in at once and see this complete laundry outfit . . . at this extraordinary price.

Come early, as we are reserving the right to reject all purchases when our allotment of outfits is sold out.

LIMITED SUPPLY

The four cooperating manufacturers have placed only one restriction on this cost-basis deal—we are allowed only a limited number of outfits. It's a promotional proposition, pure and simple, but those who are lucky enough to get in on the sale while our allotted supply lasts will have something to feel happy about for a good many wash days to come.

Lightweight Rowboat Is Offered Fishermen's Party

Weights 90 Pounds; Can be Handled by A Single Angler

Creek Chub and Paul Bunyan Baits Added To the Prize List

BY GORDON MCINTYRE

A CANVAS covered lightweight rowboat that a couple not too husky fishermen can carry around with little effort, which they can use on the top of their car and which handles beautifully on a river or a lake—that's one of the big prizes to be offered at the Appleton Post-Crescent's fourth annual Fishermen's Party, May 7. The night is a Tuesday and the place again will be the comfortable interior of the Rio theater.

The boat again is being offered by Floyd Bricknell's Valley Marine Sales and Service, Oshkosh and Neenah. In Appleton, the representative is Pond's Sport Shop.

Brick and Charley have picked out this boat because of its great favor among the disciples of Isaac Walton. This case with which it can be transported makes a trailer unnecessary, the case with which it can be handled on the water makes it a pleasure to row around the lake or river. And of course it's a Thompson Brothers boat and is built up at Peshtigo. So far this season Brick has sold 58—and that's recommendation in itself.

Meets Demand

Thompson says the lightweight rowboat was brought out to supply the demand for a safe, seaworthy boat with a carrying capacity great enough for three or four adults but light enough for one man to load on a trailer, put on top of a car, carry from the water to a cottage or haul into the garage if it can't be kept outside.

The boat is 12 feet long, 42 inches wide and 16 inches deep. It is intended and recommended for two men but will hold three or four without being over-loaded. It is recommended for a boat that may be kept unused out of doors for a long time, left lying in the sun or in an overheated garage. It has wide cedar ribs, is planked with cedar 3-16 inch thick and finished like a canvas covered canoe. The stem is of white oak, the gunwales and transom of mahogany and the seats of redwood.

And of course, it can be used with a small outboard motor.

Pike Minnow Baits

The Creek Chub Bait Company, Garrett, Ind., has offered four baits and as you know, it's the company which manufactures the famous Pike Minnow, the bait that catches more fish. Any fisherman will claim that his Pike Minnow is tops when it comes to taking the better game fish. It so closely imitates the pike minnow in shape, color and movement that the combativeness of bass is immediately aroused—and they strike to kill. It is equally as effective for muskie, pike and pickerel.

The jointed Pike Minnow is the latest addition to the Pike Minnow family. It has all the characteristics of the Pike Minnow with an extra slinking movement just like the living, breathing minnow it represents.

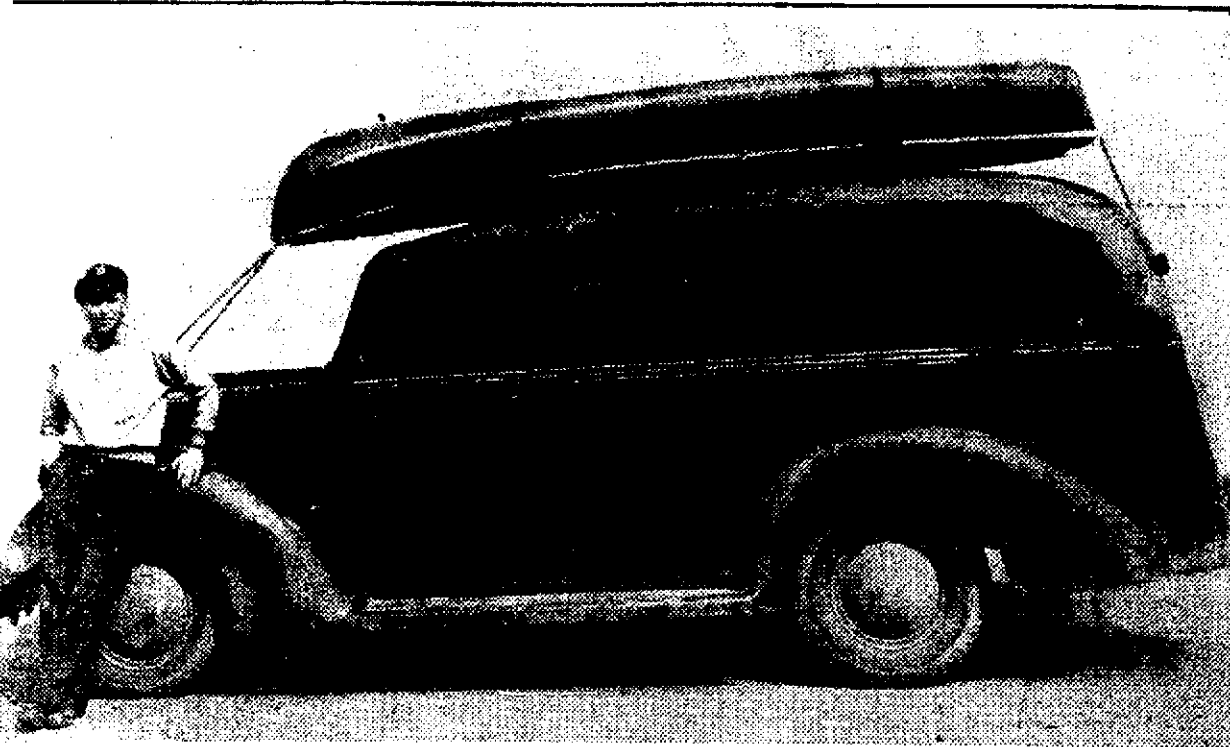

The Crawdad is another fish fool-in' lure with a natural shaped body and tail, black bead eyes, rubber legs, bronze hooks and a backward movement like a crab. The wiggles is mostly in the tail which guards the hooks from snags and bottoms.

The fourth bait is the Ding-Bat, a deep running, fast wiggling, easy casting lure that really catches fish. Very fine for bass and wall eyes. It is considered something new and especially good during the hot months when the fish are in deeper water. The lure can be bought in various color combinations.

They're "Cutest Things"

Paul Bunyan Bait company, Minneapolis, Minn., has offered five Baby Dodgers for fly fishermen and, in the words of one of the girls around the office, they are the "cutest little things." They are miniatures of the larger, transparent Dodgers the company manufactures. They have a transparent body with a skinned-like appearance and imported brilliant for eyes. This bait darts, wobbles, dives and has all the action of a crippled minnow. Trout and pan fish just won't leave them alone.

They are 1 1/2 inches long, weigh 1-25 ounce and have a No. 2 double hook. They are clear transparent, ruby transparent, amber transparent,

BRICK ARRIVES WITH FISHING PARTY ROWBOAT

Here's the way the Appleton Post-Crescent Fishermen's Party rowboat looked when it arrived from Oshkosh personally escorted by Floyd Bricknell, the donor. It's a Thompson boat, can easily be carried on the top of your car, weighs only 90 pounds and can be tossed around by one man with the greatest of ease. It is canvas covered, designed to hold two or three adults and is much in keeping with streamlining as exemplified in so many things nowadays. The party is May 7 at the Rio Theater. Date of ticket sales will be announced soon. The Appleton outlet for Brick's business is the Pond Sport Shop. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Seymour Nine to Workout Sunday

Kelly and Simons, Pitchers, are Signed by Northern Team

Seymour — Weather permitting, the Seymour ball team will hold its first workout Sunday. Wet grounds and cold weather to date has made practice impossible.

About 20 candidates for the team are expected to report Sunday. Two more men have been signed this week, Kelly and Simons, both pitchers. Kelly has been with Seymour for the past three years and Simons played with Green Bay last year. Besides pitching, Kelly is a capable outfielder and Simons can also take a turn catching.

Batting practice will be in order all Sunday afternoon, and as the team has at least six .300 hitters, some healthy base knocks should be unrecorded.

Sunday, April 28, the fans will have their first opportunity to see the team in action in a ball game. Freedom, a member of the County league, will bring its team to Seymour. Last year Seymour and Freedom played a close game and Freedom expects nothing less than a win this year.

ANNOUNCE NET EXHIBITION

Kimberly — A free tennis exhibition to which the public is invited will be staged at the high school tennis court at 9 o'clock Thursday morning. Morley Lewis, Canadian National Tennis champion will play Walter Senior, fourth ranking professional tennis player in the world.

Pastor May Stump Country, Talk Up Bout With Louis

BY BOB MCCORMICK

LEANY, N. Y.—(AP)—Bob Pastor, who went 21 rounds with Joe Louis, aimed a few verbal blows at the fight business and came up with the idea that you have to be a politician to get a bout, nowadays.

"Boxing has hit a new low," Pastor told an Albany service club yesterday, when a ranking fighter has to go out on a stump and make speeches like a politician to get himself a fight. After he'd returned to his Saratoga Springs home, Bob amplified his statement.

Pastor, it seems, figures he's a ranking fighter, as good as any heavyweight around save, maybe, champion Joe. Didn't he go 10 ent, green transparent or white with a red head. The latter is not transparent.

The Paul Bunyan Bait company also sent us one of its Paul Bunyan maps. Any follower of the love of that famous woodsman would appreciate it for his room or den. You can study it for hours and easily review the many stories of Paul and his big blue ox. It sells for a small sum of 25 cents, they say.

Pytlak May Take Salary Squabble to Judge Landis

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK—(AP)—Almost the entire front office staff of a big league ball club is looking for jobs—too much high pressure from the No. 1 guy. . . . Attention Dr. Hutchins: The basketball coach at Quincy (Ill.) high has asked to be relieved to devote more time to class room work. . . . Frankie Pytlak, the Cleveland catcher, will be the next holdout to go to Judge Landis if the judge entertains Joe Glenn's salary dispute appeal. . . . Jim Richie, St. Louis hod carrier, who was the best-looking lightweight in the golden gloves, is postponing his decision to turn pro until after his hands mend.

Motorcycle Golf

Edmundo Salas, Mexico City golfer, played an 18-hole round in the record time of 54 minutes. Used a motorcycle for the run between shots. . . . Carried his caddy on the rear seat. . . . Said he was more worn but than if he had walked 26 holes. . . . Carded a 78.

Observation Ward

Dale Burnett, (who played 10 hard years of pro football with the New York Giants) tried to get the Oklahoma backfield coaching job. They told him he didn't have enough experience and took a high school coach. (No wonder Oklahoma just managed to escape intact from the 1939 Orange bowl game.)

There is real danger Jack Hayes, White Sox second sacker, may lose the sight of one eye. If Max Kessel, Fortis (Kans.) isn't the high scoring high school basketball player in the country (491 points in 24 games) who is? . . . The new Ballinger football blocking recorder will be pre-viewed at Ballinger, Tex., tomorrow before a critical audience of coaches.

Today's Guest Star

Lynn C. Boyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "A Louisville brain specialist has ordered Jake Powell, injured Yankee outfielder, to keep absolutely quiet for several weeks. We wonder if the doctor would consider taking the Dean case."

Red Lucas Signed as Coach for Montreal

Nashville, Tenn.—(AP)—Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Brooklyn baseball club, announced that Charles (Red) Lucas had been signed for service with Montreal of the International league, a Dodge-Cord holding.

Lucas will be a relief pitcher, pinch-hitter and coach. For many years with the Cincinnati Reds and later with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Lucas was with the Chattanooga club of the Southern association last season.

"What I really want," he added, "is another shot at Louis and that little and if I have to stump the country like a politician to get fights, okay, then I'll do it."

Canadeo Stops His Opponent in 2nd

Smokey Van Bostel, Little Chute, Loses Nod To Pertner

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau Oshkosh—Savior Canadeo showed the fistic prowess that makes him one of the country's leading amateur welterweights and an international golden gloves champion when he knocked out Pat Malone, Danville, Ill., golden gloves winner, after 56 seconds of the second round at the amateur match here last night.

Canadeo stopped his man with a left hook to the stomach in a fast second round. Canadeo had the edge in the first round by following through with several stinging blows to the head and stomach.

Besides the knockout by Canadeo, two technical knockouts were put down in the books last night. Joe Dupont, captain of the 1939 Chicago golden gloves team was awarded a TKO over Joe Manjarrez, Chicago, at the end of the fourth round. Dupont had been landing the larger share of the blows in the first four rounds and knocked Manjarrez down in the fourth. The bout was stopped because of Manjarrez's weakened condition.

Jim Coyne, Fond du Lac, was declared victor in a TKO over Bob Hannes, Oshkosh, at the end of the second round when the referee thought Hannes' left eye too badly battered to permit another round.

Smokey Van Bostel, Little Chute, lost a close match to John Pertner, Oshkosh. The Little Chute boxer knocked out Pertner at Minute 10 of the first round but Pertner was awarded the decision last night.

Sam Dobbins, Oshkosh, failed to even matches with Johnny Francisco, Ripon boxing coach, who defeated him at the Green Bay golden gloves tournament earlier this year. Francisco was the judge's choice last night.

Eddie Troxel, Oshkosh, again defeated Jerry Gutman, Fond du Lac, and Lauren Chesley, Lena, defeated Bruce Fero, Oshkosh.

Baseballers Work In Y Gymnasium

Get No Rest Despite Weather: Squad Will Be Slashed Friday

Manager Eddie Dancisak of the Appleton baseball club considered sending his pitchers and catchers out shoveling city streets today to keep them in condition, but on second thought decided the Y.M.C.A. would be a much better place. In other words, the winter weather isn't going to give the baseballers an opportunity to sit around although it naturally curtails the drills.

Yesterday's workout took it in the neck when Dancisak had to halt the drill at quarter to 12 and beat it for a luncheon talk. But it was rather poor, anyway, so perhaps Eddie did better at the service club than he could have done in the wintry breezes.

Tomorrow will be the fatal day for many of the hopefuls for the manager will have to slash his squad and tell some of the boys they'd better go home and come back again next season. Some of them undoubtedly will be told they'd better off looking for another job because they haven't the stuff for Class D ball.

Saturday will see the arrival of the infielders and outfielders and then work will begin in earnest. Some 60 additional players will be sent to work out at the West Spencer street field. The ball club should start shaping up before next week ends.

Dancisak announced this morning that arrangements had been completed to hold a workout at Little Chute on April 26. He'll take his charges to the village diamond that day and send them through drills for the benefit of the Hollanders. He'll also watch any Little Chute talent which would like to strut but which hasn't come over to Appleton.

MR. DILLON!! IS THAT NICE?

Assistant Coach Ade Dillon of Lawrence was coaching football when this picture was taken but one can't be positive since his pose is that of a fighter delivering an uppercut to someone's chin. It's one of those times when the camera gets odd results for Ade was showing a couple linemen how to go after that big bag behind which Tackle Liss is standing. Just as he got in the above pose the cameraman let Ade "have it" and now he'll have something else to live down. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Fond du Lac Manager Holds Major League Putout Mark

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles about managers of teams in the Wisconsin State league, starting its first season in organized baseball. The articles are from the National Association of Minor Leagues.)

THE veteran Harry Rice, who will take over the managerial reins of the Fond du Lac club in the new Wisconsin State League, has been out of the big show for some few years, but he left behind a record which still stands on the books. On July 12, 1930, he tied the American League mark for outfield putouts in a single game when he caught 11 flies. He was playing with the New York Yankees at the time.

The record never has been bettered in the junior major circuit and is held jointly by Rice, Happy Felsch and Johnny Mostil. Rice was a mighty spy outfielder in his big league days, playing with the St. Louis Browns, Detroit Tigers.

Adler Braus Will Hold Organization Meeting at Y.M.C.A.

Appleton Adler Braus, formerly Cozy Taverner, will hold a final organization meeting in preparation for competition in the Outagamie County baseball league at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 this evening. The Braus are scheduled for an initial workout Sunday afternoon at Wilson school grounds.

Legion Bouts to Be Held Tonight

Golden Gloves Talent Studs Best Card Ever Presented

THE CARD

Jack Whittinghill, Bloomington, Ill., versus Anthony Jones, Chicago, five rounds at 150 pounds.
Johnny Rozsina, Milwaukee, versus Tommy Gann, Chicago, five rounds at 147 pounds.
Peter D'Amico, Milwaukee, versus Vito Rizzo, Chicago, three rounds at 128 pounds.

Studded with golden gloves talent, one of the best boxing shows ever presented by Oney Johnson post of the American Legion will get underway at 8:30 tonight at Armory D. Practically every bout is of windup calibre.

One of the outstanding attractions will be the appearance of Anthony Jones, Chicago Negro who fought on the Chicago Tribune golden gloves team in recent international bouts. He will square off with Jack Whittinghill, Bloomington, Ill., who defeated Jones in 1939.

The other windup will have Johnny Rozsina, Milwaukee, against Tommy Gann, Chicago, two class boxers with great prospects.

Riggs Has Chance to Even an Old Score

Houston, Texas—(AP)—Riggs has a chance today to even an old score—a defeat in the western indoor tennis championship at the hands of a gangling boy from Portland, Ore. Riggs, the national champion, met the Portland youth—Tom Kelley—in quarterfinals of the River Oaks invitation tournament. Kelley trimmed Riggs in the western two weeks ago at Chicago and went on to win the title.

The theory and play of indoor and outdoor tennis, however, are considerably different, and Riggs was an overwhelming favorite.

Iowa, Illinois to Play Two Games

All Big Ten Baseball Teams Will be in Action This Week

Chicago —(P)—Iowa's chances of retaining the Big Ten baseball crown it won last year might take on more concrete form this week after a two-game series with the strong University of Illinois.

All conference teams will be in action Friday and Saturday, but Big Ten observers will be particularly interested in the outcome at Iowa City. Bolstered by three basketball stars—Bill Hapac, Johnny Drish and Walt Evers—Illinois enters the game unbeaten in two league starts, both against Northwestern.

Iowa, in its only conference engagement, whipped Purdue, 2 to 0, behind the able pitching of Harold Haub, who was unbeaten in the conference last year. Haub is expected to tangle with the Illinois Johnny Pacotti in Friday's opener. Pacotti blanked Northwestern, 1-0, on two hits last week.

Wisconsin, another leading contender, takes on Michigan at Ann Arbor in two games. Minnesota plays at Ohio State, Purdue at Indiana, and Northwestern and Chicago meet in a home and home series, Friday's game being billed for the midway.

Wisconsin, which took two straight from Chicago last week, suffered defeat for the first time this season when it lost a pair of games to Western (Mich.) State Teachers. Yesterday the Badgers opposed Michigan State at East Lansing but rain halted play in the ninth with the score tied six all.

Tonorrow's games will be the 1940 conference debuts for Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota and Ohio State.

Zuppke's Paintings

Will be on Exhibit in Chicago, May 6 to 12

Chicago—(P)—Art lovers of a dozen cities will have a chance this spring to discover that Robert C. Zuppke can deal masterful strokes on canvas as well as on the gridiron.

The Chicago showing of 21 paintings will be held from May 6-12. Landscapes of central Illinois and the far west and marines of the Pacific coast feature the new collection.

Zuppke has achieved more than 1,000 canvases in his 20 years as a painter in oils.

Chaffin Chapter

By Gordon H. McIntyre

(Editor's note: Phil Zwick, some-times of Kaukauna, had another fight the other evening and once more he won. This morning we had the following among other clippings from Phil. And so we pass it on to his friends.)

PHIL ZWICK WHAT S. L. BOXING NEEDS

In one Mr. Phil Zwick, late of Wisconsin, formerly of New Zealand, Salt Lake City's promoters have the best single medium for effecting a boxing comeback that has come this way in years.

But it is doubtful if they realize it or are even willing to be anything but hostile to the eminently straightforward Mr. Zwick because of the hard bargain he drove "Hard bargain" in this instance means demanding value in return for value given.

Zwick came to Salt Lake City some time ago, likes it very much and would like to make his home here. He is living in a house on Canyon Road right now. All he asks is a square deal and he has certainly always given one in return. Yet the promoters have been anything but congenial the public has been skeptical of his string of quick knockouts, and even some sportswriters get off on the wrong foot, giving "phantom punch" possibly as result of a box office squabble over Annie Oakley.

Well if ever a man vindicated himself as an outstanding example of a chosen profession, it was last night when Zwick made a shambles of mighty nifty fighter, Al Spina and came away several pounds in the bargain. If Mr. Oliver, who has done very well in his short stab to date at the ring game is as smart as he seems to be, he'll play ball with the belting New Zealander hereafter, with no need of shenanigans.

Zwick's price is high, but as in any other business, quality is a good investment. Well admit it, finding good boys who'll risk their reputations against Zwick is tough sledding. But it can be done with the proper inducement and square dealing when it comes to the payoff.

Zwick is the home drawing card Salt Lake boxing has needed. Let's hope our promoters have the business acumen to keep him on the payroll.

May be Hurt by Rain

Columbus, Ohio —(P)—Showers threatened to fill the American association's opening day attendance record (two) with water instead of cheers in eastern division cities today.

The eight double-A clubs went ahead with plans for opening the loops 39th season, however, and hoped to play all games despite forecasts of rain and colder.

Louisiana ran highest at Louisville where the Cardinals junior world champions, expect to play Minneapolis before 15,000.

Crowds of 10,000 were predicted for Columbus where the Red Birds tangle with Milwaukee, and Indianapolis, scene of St. Paul's invasion. About 7,500 were expected to see the champion Kansas City Blues square off against the last place Mud Hens in Toledo.

'Pee Wee' Reese Is Making 'Em Sit Up and Take Notice

BY BILL BRANT

BROOKLYN'S Dodgers always had color. It's a different shade the past two seasons, the color of a championship club in the making. This year's No. 1 addition looms as the most colorful Dodger of them all, and the right shade, too.

Harold (Pee Wee) Reese, boy wonder shortstop, is the spring splash of rubate tint causing Flatbush fandom to high-hat their Giant foe-fans over the river. Three years ago Pee Wee was playing in the Louisville Church league. Last fall he literally ran away with the spotlight in the Little World series, scorching the baselines with the vital runs that crowned the Louisville Colonels kings of the minor league map by their triumph over the Rochester.

Durocher's Dodgers bounced from a shoddy seventh place ranking, as of 1938, to a fast-finishing third-placer last fall. To go higher the MacPhail scouting system unloaded a numerous cargo at the Clearwater camp. To go higher the club has to be better this year, because the whole National league, on its spring showing at camps and in exhibition games, as well as in its victory over the American league in the Tampa All-Star game March 17, shows increased power and punch in every lineup.

The Dodger drive for increased puissance centered on pitching and outfield hitting. Scads of ball-twisters and ball-hawks saluted little Leo when the manager called his Clearwater camp to order. His most important rookie, Reese, is neither a pitcher nor an outfielder, yet in this one $50,000 bundle of slim, shifty, 20-year-old Blue Grass baseball ability, the manager found a large part of the answer to both of Brooklyn's prime problems.

Thanks to the Little World series publicity, Reese's proficiency on the attack was well-known and thoroughly tested long before he donned Dodger spangles. When he showed his shanks around shortstop in Florida, Brooklyn baseball writers chortled with joy. The supply of adjectives met the demand, but it was close.

In Brooklyn this means more than most places on the baseball map, for Brooklyn writers, like Brooklyn fans, have been looking at a couple of pretty fair shortstops in recent years, Durocher in person and Jimmy Hudson. The manager, in his palmy days, was rated the greatest defensive shortstopper of them all by weighty authorities. Hudson's nimble-footed management of the job was not too far behind this high managerial standard. So if Reese at training camp made the experts forget Durocher and Hudson, he can't be any clodhopper. If he can be close to Durocher in defensive ability, all his base-running talent is so much velvet on the offense. He'll help the outfield power by being on the bases when the power functions.

When the Dodgers wear gloves, Reese will pair with Pete Coscarart in forming a Maginot mud-wall for the infield which will make every Dodger pitcher richer by one to five infield outs which otherwise would be base hits.

The Reese-Coscarart double play technique set the boys resurrecting Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance comparisons.

"They're even better than that," one typist typed. "When those two guys go for a double play, they leave nothing to chance."

New York Yanks Defeat Athletics; Other Teams Idle

World's Champions Fail To Impress; Keller's Work Outstanding

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

U. N. T. L. Joe DiMaggio gets back into the lineup for the New York Yanks, the world champions, are sure to see a more or less constant stream of southpaw pitching.

Connie Mack, who has to take chances with what material he has, masquerading as pitchers, tried a right-hander yesterday in the only game of the day in the major leagues, and the McCarthy men went right to work for a 4-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Burl M. Mack knows every other rule of the thumb in baseball. He gambled with Lefty Lovill (Chut-bay) Dean and won the opener the day before and he has announced that young Herman Besse, a rookie southpaw from Memphis, will be thrown into the lion's den today.

With DiMaggio in sick bay, the Yanks have five lefthanded batters in the lineup, four of them coming to the plate in succession.

There is no question that DiMaggio's power against both right and left handed pitching is sorely missed.

In the opener which New York lost in ten innings the Yanks collected only six hits, none of them more than a single, and yesterday they won with a somewhat skunky seven. The only one of these good for more than one base was a homer by Charley Keller.

In fact the Yanks might have been edged out again in spite of Monte Pearson's four-hit pitching if Keller hadn't expressed his authority. He walked to lead off the fourth inning and cored New York's first run, homered for the second and drove in the fourth with a single.

Unfavorable weather forced postponement of all the other games.

In the 98-pound class, G. Dieck (M), 86 pounds, won by a technical knockout in the third round, over C. Kresker (O.F.), 105 pounds. R. Sommers (M), 101 pounds, got a decision over T. Patterson (O.F.), 98 pounds, by taking all three rounds.

S. Miller (M), 111 pounds, defeated M. Blinick (O.F.), 105 pounds, in a close bout with Miller landing more effective punches. A. Tesch (O.F.), 115 pounds, took the 116 pound class by a forfeit. D. Arndt (M), 125 pounds, and B. Stein (O.F.), 126 pounds, fought three fast rounds to a draw. M. Patterson (O.F.), 132 pounds, won by a TKO over L. Pettit (M), 133 pounds, in the second round. J. Q. Hoffman (M), 149 pounds, was held to a draw by G. Kontzer (O.F.), 151 pounds, both boys trying for a knockout. O. Adams (M), 156 pounds, won a decision over J. Dudas (O.F.), 157 pounds. Adams started slow and was held in the second and third rounds on the mat for a count of nine but he was saved by the bell and in the third went on the defensive and kept covered up to weather the last round, after being downed for a eighth count. J. Thielke (O.F.), 198 pounds, lost on a forfeit to Willie Wiseman (M), 205 pounds, in the heavyweight class.

Friday evening the Marion boys will exchange leather with the undefeated Kaukauna team, in the Marion gym.

Michigan State Ties Wisconsin Badgers

East Lansing, Mich. — (AP) — A final inning rally that netted one run earned Michigan State college a 6-6 tie with the University of Wisconsin baseball team yesterday in a game terminated by rain at the end of the ninth.

Wisconsin's one run margin vanished when State scored after loading the bases on two hits off John Saxer coupled with a Badger error. Saxer, hurling in a cold rain, then halted the uprising by fanning one man and forcing the final batter to fly out.

The Badgers' biggest inning was the third when they bunched five of their 12 hits to score four runs. Bob Clark, who pitched the first four and two-thirds innings for Wisconsin, gave State five of its eight hits.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Jefferson Sheriff Is All Events Leader

Madison — (AP) — Sheriff Harry O'Brien of Jefferson county took the lead in the regular all events division of the 38th annual state bowling tournament last night with a nine game total of 1,972.

O'Brien turned in a 709 series in the singles to take third place in that division. His game totals were 279, 185 and 247.

He had scored 638 with the Stopper-Bailey team of Jefferson Tuesday evening and collected 625 in the doubles last night. His doubles partner, Verne Anderson, hit 608, giving them a total of 1,233.

The previous all events leader was B. Nelson, of Racine, who had marked up 1,900.

Another displacement among leaders was registered by R. Gustafson, of Port Atkinson, who rolled a 602 series on games of 188, 245 and 229 which gave him fourth place in minor singles.

America OUT-OF-DOORS

EARLY LAKE TROUT FISHING BY HAROLD HOLLS

Those first fishermen who go out after lake trout may be lucky enough to get some surface fishing. If they are that fortunate they can have some of the greatest sport in American waters.

The lake trout is a sturdy fighter at all times, but when taken on the surface by casting the battle is much more spectacular than when the fight is in deep water. A lake trout will hit very rapidly in the spring and the angler should be all set for his initial rush and should make certain that he sets the hooks as the mouth of a lake trout is really tough.

This toughness in a trout's mouth makes fly fishing for the lakers a difficult feat. The lakers will hit flies all right, but the hooks won't get set. Bait casting is a much more logical form of artificial angling as it is easier to set a plug or spoon in a lake trout's mouth.

Most lake trout angling is done by trolling, and this trolling must be done down near the bottom. It is known by the name of "chugging."

In chugging the lure used is generally a silver or copper spoon of some sort. This spoon is attached to a wire leader and the leader in turn is attached to a triangle of metal. At the top of the triangle the line is attached and some use a light copper wire instead of a line. At the bottom of the triangle a weight, heavy enough to take the lure to the bottom of the lake is snapped on.

The weight should be at least eighteen inches below the lure and triangle. The motion of the boat or canoe will keep the lure spinning out behind.

The trolling is done by letting the line go out until the snapper touches the lake bottom. Then the boat is put in motion and the line is played out so that the weight drags behind and bumps the bottom or chugs along it at regular intervals.

In this fashion of fishing the lure goes along and spins something like a foot above the bottom. The trout are lurking in the depths and will strike if they are present. They are among the easiest fish to get a striking mood that we know.

After a trout has struck the hooks should be set firmly and then the battle will be on. It will take time and plenty of skill and patience before the laker is brought to the surface and landed. The angler will know that he has been up against a master of aquatic warfare.

Beloit and Ripon Thinlies to Meet

Track Squads Will Clash In Dual Meet at Gold Field Saturday

Beloit — Because unreasonable weather has kept them indoors the Beloit college cindersmen are paging their almanacs in hopes of finding a few clear days in which to warm up before they take on the Ripon college squad in a dual meet Saturday.

Coach Louis E. Means has an experienced Beloit team, which suffered the loss of but four seniors through graduation last June. A strong sophomore contingent which went through its freshman schedule undefeated last year, has sent the Beloit track stock soaring.

Chances for a Beloit victory rest largely upon Dick Raddant, star sophomore sprinter, along with Jack Griffith and Russ Heilman, also distance covers of no mean ability. Means is pinning his mid-die distance hopes upon Eddie May, great colored athlete, and the long distance hopes upon the two diminutive Hartman cousins, Bert and George, both of whom have been Beloit relay stars during their freshman years.

Coach Bacon, most versatile man on the Beloit squad, is expected to take the high jump with his consistent six foot leap, the broad jump, plus the javelin and discus throws. He will also run the high hurdles along with John Biester and George Jernegan. Jernegan and Biester will run the lows.

Illinois Cagers are Starring in Baseball

Champaign, Ill. — (AP) — Wallace Roettger, Illinois baseball coach, had his worries simplified this season by three boys who jumped from first string basketball berths to the three-four-five batting spots in the baseball lineup.

Bill Hapac, who broke most of the Illinois basketball records during the season and set a new conference high with 34 points for a single game, now handles first base for the diamond team and bats "cleanup."

Johnny Drish, basketball captain-elect and lake Hapac, a Cicero, Ill., product, is the second baseman and bats fifth. Walter "Foot" Evers of Collinsville, one of the outstanding sophomores in Big Ten basketball last season, has taken over the centerfield position and rates the No. 3 post in the batting lineup.

Northwestern Indian Tribes to Protest Alleged Injustices

Colville, Wash.—(AP)—The Colville Indian tribe plans a ceremony of tears to protest alleged injustices by the government.

The ceremony will be held next month at Kettle falls on the Columbia river. The falls, to be buried beneath the lake forming behind Grand Coulee dam, was a traditional meeting and fishing spot of northwest Indians. The rites, funeral in character, will memorialize the falls.

Low Runnels, vice president of the Colville reservation tribal council, said the Indians had listed four charges of injustice in a resolution to Representative Charles Leavy, (D-Wash.) Secretary Ickes and John Collier, Indian commissioner. The charges:

The reclamation bureau failed to remove 1,000 old Indian graves from the area which will be flooded. (A bureau-sponsored WPA project last year removed more than 1,000 graves from the Kettle falls area.)

The Indians have been unable to obtain disbursement of $139,107 in tribal funds obtained from lease or sale of tribal resources.

The government failed to reimburse the tribe for trespass and damages resulting from the building of Grand Coulee dam.

The government failed to pay a $5,000,000 claim of the tribe for destruction of the annual salmon run above the Grand Coulee dam.

U. S. and Iceland Open Diplomatic Relations

Washington—(AP)—Diplomatic relations between the United States and Iceland, sister kingdom of Nazi-occupied Denmark went on a direct basis Wednesday.

The arrangement was approved last night after Secretary of State Hull received a message from the prime minister of Iceland, Hermann Jonasson, stating that the country was anxious to deal directly with the United States.

Hull responded that the "American government is agreeable in the existing circumstances to the establishment of Icelandic representation." He said it was hoped that a consular office could be opened soon at Reykjavik, Iceland's capital.

Before the German invasion of Denmark, Iceland's relations with the United States were conducted through the Danish legation here and through a special trade commissioner in New York.

Oshkosh — Kenneth Boelter, 27, 210 Gruenwald avenue, Neenah, pleaded guilty of parking his truck on a highway without flares and was fined $25 and costs with an alternative of 30 days in the county jail when he was arraigned before Judge S. J. Luchsinger in municipal court this morning. He was given until April 25 to pay the fine. Boelter was arrested about 9:30 last night on Highway 45 in the town of Black Wolf.

Steffenhagen, manager of the Ideal Liquor firm, who accused Hall of embezzling the money between Jan. 1 and April 1.

Eye Injured When Hit By Lighted Match Head

Waupaca — Dixon Valentine was the victim of an unusual accident this week when the head of a match which he had struck flew into his eye and lodged there. He hurried to a physician who had some difficulty in removing the obstruction from the eyeball.

This is the second accident reported this week caused from splintering match. Miss Roberta Holly was severely burned when the head of a match flew inside the neck of her dress as she attempted to light a stove in her home.

County Agent Finds Good Potato Seed Is Being Distributed

Waupaca — Checking with the potato warehouse managers, County agent Victor Quick has found that good seed is being distributed among many Waupaca county farmers. At Weyauwega, Waupaca, Scandinavia and Iola many carloads of choice northern grown seed from Wisconsin and Michigan have been unloaded.

At Weyauwega, certified Sturgeon Bay Rurals have been distributed to about 30 Future Farmers of America boys and farmers; at Waupaca some choice Katahdins and Rurals have been purchased by farmers and at Iola four carloads of northern grown seed have been distributed and several thousand sacks of fine Chippewas and Rurals are being purchased. In the Clintonville and Marion area, Antigo seed potatoes are being distributed by the agricultural teachers.

A renewed interest in good seed is the order of the potato business today. Warehouse men are interested in the distribution of good seed because "only through good seed can we hope to furnish the local markets with potatoes which the consumers wish to buy," said the county agent.

A complete outline of the potato program for Waupaca county will be broadcast over station WLBL at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, April 26 by Mr. Quick. This will be another of a series of "county agricultural agent's news" being featured this month by the Stevens Point broadcasting station.

Blizzard Fails to Dampen Spirit of Good Will Tour

Neenah — About 75 Milwaukee business men, completing the final lap of a 2-day good will tour of Wisconsin cities, were welcomed by a phenomenal blizzard when they arrived by special train in Neenah late Wednesday afternoon, but the uncomfortable weather didn't dampen their spirits, for the Milwaukee delegates were congenial hosts to about 100 Neenah and Menasha business and professional men at a dinner at the Valley Inn.

Included in the good will tour program was a sightseeing trip through the Twin Cities, but the inclement weather disrupted the scheduled.

The Milwaukee delegates, consisting mainly of jobbers, wholesalers and manufacturers, weren't disappointed, however, for the intervening time gave them an unanticipated opportunity to draw local merchants some of whom are customers or prospects, into the respective corners of the hotel lobby and talk shop.

The 2-day tour, it was explained, was conducted by the trade promotion committee of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, and during the barnstorming program the Milwaukee business men visited other Wisconsin cities preaching cooperation between those cities and Milwaukee.

The formal part of the program was embodied in talks by F. N. Moore, immediate past president of

Farm Real Estate Values Increase During Last Year

Washington — (AP) — American farm real estate values increased an average of 1 per cent during the year ended March 1, the bureau of agriculture economics reported today.

However, the national average was about 15 per cent below the pre-world war base period. The low point during the past decade was in 1933 when the national average was 27 per cent below the base period.

The bureau said the March 1 index value was 85 as compared with 84 in 1939, 85 in 1937 and 1938 and 100 in 1912-14.

The index by states last year and this, respectively, showed: Indiana, 73 and 74; Illinois, 72 and 75; Wisconsin, 86 and 84; Iowa, 74 and 74; Missouri, 58 and 59.

State Road Deaths In Sharp Increase

Madison — (AP) — Traffic accidents caused 126 deaths in Wisconsin during the first quarter of 1940, an increase of 20 over the same period of 1939, the state motor vehicle department announced today.

The March toll of 40 included 19 pedestrians, increasing pedestrian deaths for the first three months of this year to 58, or 17 more than in the same period of 1939.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

Rosalind Russell knows the value of daily skin care. She urges all over twenty-five to preserve their complexion by adopting simple home care with well selected cosmetics.

The smart woman of thirty or more, has found that a few minutes of daily pampering helps wonderfully to keep her skin looking youthfully fresh. She has borrowed techniques used by fashionable beauty salons and by following a home routine faithfully (with an occasional professional facial) she dodges that middle-aged look, and remains attractive.

Actually there is no magic involved, it is merely a matter of knowing how to care for your particular skin type, and then doing it every day.

Dry Skin Problem

Let's suppose that, like the majority of American women, you have dry skin. It is on dry skin that signs of age are most apt to etch their unwanted lines, particularly around the eyes, mouth, and on forehead. Weather lines and laughter lines lead to deeper wrinkles, so you will be wise to discourage them before it is too late. What to do?

I'll take you to an expert in one of America's prominent beauty salons. She claims, of course, that the first fundamental step in the care of your complexion is proper cleansing. "A clean skin with clean pores, functioning properly, is the very foundation of skin beauty," she insists. For dry, mature skin, this salon uses a cleansing cream which helps to soften the skin as it removes dirt and tired make-up. This cleansing-plus-softening cream contains vegetable oils made extra light by a double beating process. You are advised to apply it to your throat as well as to your face. When you remove the cream with tissues, you have not only cleansed your face but have also eased away flaky patches and helped your skin become appreciably softer.

The second step, as outlined for home routine, is local stimulation. This requires an orange flower skin lotion which removes every trace of dust and cream, besides whipping up a youthful blush. Be sure your movements are upward and outward, working from the base of your throat and finishing at the hairline. This non-drying lotion leaves your skin very refreshed.

To Prevent Wrinkles

The final step, in this simple treatment is lubrication, which is important if your skin is dry. A particularly rich emollient is chosen to give the skin supplementary lubrication. This special dry-skin mixture is patted on with your fingers, or even better with a patting cloth as salon experts use. If your skin is extremely dry, it is suggested that you add a bit of emollient oil to your cream, to increase the softening action.

For older faces and thin necks, this salon uses a doubly-rich cream. For unusually sensitive or thin skins they prefer a specially prepared sensitive-skin mixture.

CONSULT HOST

The most knowing people have least hesitation in asking a host or hostess quite frankly what to wear whenever they find themselves in doubt. But the typical letter is this one, asking me instead, "Is it proper to wear a hat to a ladies night dinner given by local men's club? If so, what type of dress is correct?"

The answer to this is to ask your personal host—the member who invited you to this dinner—what he is going to wear. If your host is wearing formal evening dress (tail coat), then you should wear your best evening dress, with a smart hair-do and of course no hat; if he is wearing dinner clothes (tuxedo), then simple evening dress and no hat, or a long afternoon dress and a small evening type of hat. If he is going to the dinner in a business suit, then you wear day clothes and a hat.

Answering Tea Invitations
Dear Mrs. Post: We've been having quite a lot of discussion lately as to when it is necessary, or proper, to answer an invitation to a tea. We would appreciate having you explain this with regard to a small tea and a large tea.

Answer: If the invitation reads: "Will you come in on Saturday, etc." or even "Tea at 5 o'clock on Friday," and R.s.v.p. beneath it, it must be answered. The first with a note in the second person, and the second on your visiting card under your name. "Accepts with pleasure for Friday the 5th."

An engraved invitation to a tea need not be answered at all unless it includes R.s.v.p. If it requires an answer, you write a third person note on formal note paper. If there is no answer asked for and you want to be punctiliously correct, you mail your card (or cards) the night before, so that they will be received on the morning of the tea. The object of this is to let the hostess know that you are among those not to be provided for. If you

Defender May Error to Make Up for 'Boot'

BY ELY CULBERTSON

It is amazing how many contracts that are "booted" by the declarer are politely handed back by the kind hearted defenders. Today's hand is a case in point: South dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 spade 2 hearts 2 spades Pass
4 spades Pass Pass Pass

South, with 4-3-3-3 distribution, was tempted to jump to three no trump on the second round, but feeling that North's values might be in spades, diamonds, and clubs, and that consequently the partnership might be without a heart stopper, preferred a game contract in spades. Obviously, South's five honor tricks required strong action, and after the immediate spade raise, his reasoning was logical enough. As a matter of fact, despite North's double heart stopper three no trump would have been out of the question, whereas four spades should have been fulfilled even without cooperation from the enemy.

West opened the diamond king and declarer made the grave mistake of winning with the ace. Two rounds of hearts then were played, after which, having noted East's echo in hearts (which signified ability to ruff the third round of the suit), declarer cashed his two top spades, then with only the high trump outstanding, ruffed a heart. Now the dummy was down to one trump and still had a diamond which would have to be cleared away before a diamond ruff could take place. Perhaps for want of something better to do, declarer now led a low club to his own hand, East's seven spot forcing the ace. West, who was obviously a player to whom aces are juicy prey, pounced on this trick with his queen of trumps, actually chuckling at the declarer's expression of surprise. His amusement was short lived, however. Now the best he could do was cash a diamond trick, after which declarer could easily ruff a third diamond in dummy and finally concede only one club trick to East. In all, declarer had lost only one trump, one club and one diamond.

As I have said, this was a comedy of errors all around. Declarer had thrown away his game by not holding up the diamond ace at the first trick and retaining that card as a vital card of communication. Had he done so, the play probably would have gone as follows: A second diamond won by the ace, and then a diamond ruff; next, the ace and king of hearts would have been cashed, two rounds of spades led, and a third heart ruffed; then with the red suits cleaned up, declarer could afford to lose a club and a trump. But after the error declarer made at the first trick, West should easily have defeated the contract. All he had to do was refuse to ruff South's club ace. Sooner or later, he would have had to gain the lead with a diamond and then he could have laid down the spade queen and removed dummy's last trump and ruff. South would have ended up by losing an extra diamond trick, and with it his contract.

Seating House Guests at Dinner Party

Dear Mrs. Post: At a dinner party given for our house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Week-end, shall they be seated in the places of honor at the right of my husband and me, or does the fact that they are staying in the house make a difference?

Answer: I think it does make a difference if you want it to. Correctly, they are supposed to sit next to you and your husband. But since they are seeing much more of you than any of your guests, it is quite usual to seat them between those whom you think they will especially like.

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad however to have many printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "What To Wear and When." ## Cheap Smartness Misleads Inexperience Adolescents

BY ANGELO PATRI

Why is it smart to be superior to long accepted decencies? I can find no answer to that but a look at the people who feel so superior to accepted forms gives me some comfort at least. I would rather not be that way, nor be like that. I am happier the other way, so that is likely to be the better way for me and for those whose lives touch mine. It is supposed to be dumb to be still until one has something to say. It is smart to be noisy, glibly, steadily, talk down anybody who seems to want to speak in ordinary tones, scream with laughter at some wisecrack that means nothing whatever but is a symptom of an empty head. Any party that is not a "riot," is a failure in this smart group. I don't like that kind of smartness. I dislike it.

It's dumb, too, to refuse to drink when other folk are drinking stimulants. It is smart to mention mother's child, the boy from the sticks, and inquire gaily if the milk should be served in a bottle. Youngsters find it hard to face that sort of smartness but there are still enough intelligent boys and girls to know for what it is, the essence of stupidity. Any young person who drinks these days is more than dumb. He is dangerous. But the smart ones are too dull to catch the idea. The hospitals and the courts tell their story.

Among these smart folk any lack of enthusiasm for style, the current styles of the shops and streets, is promptly classed as "too dumb for words." The silly hat, the ugly hair arrangement, the loud lipstick, the violently stained nails, the hopeless shoes—hopeless because of staggering heels and defenseless toes, are pronounced "divine." Do as the crowd do or be singled out as a dud.

Attendance at shows that are vulgar and stupid, the reading of books whose chief appeal lies in the vulgarity of their vocabularies, is very smart. If the dark side of life, its sin and sickness and depravity is set forth on the screen and the stage and in the book, it is smart to be interested. All that is decent and lovely and to be praised by wholesome minds is stodgy and dull and belongs to the "sticks."

Very good, but it is time that some of us who know well the real values of life spoke out against this cheap smartness that misleads the inexperienced young people. We who have proven certain things to be good should speak in praise of them. And we ought to try to present our side as attractively as possible and compete with this silly smartness for the attention of Youth. "The devil shouldn't have all the good tunes."

Home leeches its children where it will. If father and mother like what is good, if they praise it and as closely as possible follow it in their lives, the children are likely to stay by them. A few words fitly spoken will strip the pseudo-smartness from the prevalent vulgarities and let the young people see them for what they are—nothing.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and children on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

Woman Shouldn't Try to Hold Job and Keep House

BY DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix—My husband and I are both employed and we board, in a private home, but I am not satisfied. I wish to do light housekeeping and still hold my job, but he says that it will be too hard on me and if I go to housekeeping I must give up my work. What do you think?

MARGO.

Dorothy Dix

Answer:
I think your husband is exactly right, and that no woman should undertake to carry on two jobs at one time. Of course, many women do. They work all day in store or office and then rush home and clean up the house and get dinner. The result is that they are nervous, peevish, overworked and end up in a breakdown. The reason that men last so much better in business than women do is not because they are physically stronger or have better health, but because they have so much more sense about taking care of themselves. When a man does his day's work he calls it a day and lets it go at that. He doesn't go from his work to his home and cook his dinner and sit up half the night pressing his trousers and sewing on buttons.

No, indeed. He goes and gets a good, hot meal that somebody else has cooked and that he hasn't had to worry about or plan for. He spends the evening reading or amusing himself, lets a tailor do his mending and the laundry do his washing.

But a woman superimposes the work of a woman on her work of a man. She does a man's work out side of her home, and then comes home and cooks and scrubs, washes and retires her hat and takes a tuck in her skirt. Then just about the time when she's getting to the place a business where she is capable of drawing down a good salary she blows up in nervous prostration.

Furthermore, no woman can perform satisfactorily two jobs. When she tries it she falls between the stools and is good at neither. She isn't good in her job because she isn't giving her whole mind to it. She has half her thoughts on wondering how things are coming along in the fireless cooker, and if she forgot to shut the icebox door, and trying to remember all the things she has to get at the delicatessen. When she gets home she is too tired and frazzled to cook a real meal or to eat it after she gets it cooked.

So, take your husband's advice, Margo, and board with somebody else until you are able to set up a real home and devote all of your time to it. "Light housekeeping" is well named "light." There is mighty little substance to it, and I don't blame a man for not wanting to leave a place where there is real food to be had.

What Happens When Youth Makes Marriage

Dear Dorothy Dix—I have a boy who will be 18 years old in April and who declares his intention of marrying as soon as he reaches that age. The girl he wants to marry is a good girl, but four years his senior. I am not opposed to his marrying her, but I think the proper time comes, but what chance does a successful marriage has any boy with no special training along any line of endeavor, and no moneyed father to back him up? How can I instill into his mind a little of that golden elixir, common sense?

TROUBLED FATHER.

Answer:
I think that it would take a surgical operation on your son's head to put a common sense into it, for evidently he has shut his mind against all arguments and is bent on rushing to destruction.

It is useless to tell him that at 18 no boy knows his own mind, or has the faintest idea of what qualities he wants in a wife and that the girl he is in love with now he wouldn't have on a bet when he is 25, or even 21.

It is a waste of words to try to show him that "a young man married is a young man married," as the old proverb says, and that if he handicaps himself with a family now he will be poor and hard-run all of his days, because he will never have any chance to save up money to take advantage of any opportunity that comes his way and thus get ahead in the world.

But can't you find some object lesson in your community that will bring home to him his folly in making

CASE RECORDS OF A PSYCHOLOGIST

By Dr. George W. Crane
Psychologist, Northwestern University

As we grow older, our human chassis may rattle or creak a bit, and our motor may knock, but we can still follow the same highways traveled by the newer, streamlined models. However, we must go a bit slower. We may enjoy ourselves even more, though, for happiness and zest for living do not depend on exceeding speed limits.

Case Q-140: Mason D., aged 54, is heir of a paper company.

"I'm worried about my health," he stated bluntly. "I do not have the pep I used to have."

"Besides, I'm bothered with arthritis, which troubles me a great deal in bad weather. Dr. Crane, I've gone to a dozen doctors, but if they cure me of one complaint, I soon notice another.

"Do you suppose my trouble is in my head?"

Diagnosis: Modern medicine can perform many miracles, but don't expect us to efface completely the effects of time.

An automobile which has been on the roads for 10 years, may knock a bit from the accumulation of carbon around the valves, for a great deal of gasoline vapor has been ignited in the cylinders after 10 years of driving.

The motor may not have the pick-up and zip which it demonstrated when it came out of the factory as a new model. But with reasonable attention, it may still take you across the continent and back. You may be forced to travel at 40 miles per hour instead of 60, but you'll get there.

Is Your Chassis Old?

Similarly, we human beings consume tons of food by the time we are middle-aged. Scores of cows and hogs, chickens and fish have marched down our throats as food.

In the combustion of such fuel, there is likely to be some ash or waste products, comparable to the carbon around the auto valves, which slows us down a bit, and even makes us knock. But we can still keep going if we use common sense and don't allow ourselves to brood over our aches and pains till we become hypochondriacs.

Everybody gets somewhat arthritic if he lives long enough. Most of us will also have cataracts and heart trouble if we live to be old. We'll also lose our teeth, as well as some of our horsepower and speed.

Medical and dental sciences, fortunately, can replace our teeth and extract our cataracts so we can see.

Eye-glasses, too, will supplement the growing inelasticity of our lenses. Our ears ultimately grow somewhat deaf, but electrical hearing aids will often reduce this defect, just as the eye-glasses are needed to supplement our inelastic lenses. But we cannot put a new motor in our human chassis, or even clean the valves.

Slaves To Their "Innards"
Don't be a slave to your "innards" or a hypochondriac, magnifying every bubble of gas which traverses your intestine until you think you have cancer.

Constipation is fairly typical of old age, partly from poor diet, lack of exercise and sufficient fluid intake. Hemorrhoids, or bleeding piles, can, and should be surgically treated to avoid the continuous blood loss with its resulting anemia. Old people should take iron tonics since their diet is usually low in iron foods.

Prostate trouble in elderly men and partial urinary incontinence in elderly women, especially those who have borne children, are common troubles. If the conditions become acute, it is always possible to obtain some relief by surgery.

But please remember that our human chassis will creak and our motor may knock, but if we refuse to give up and park in the garage, we can still go almost everywhere that the newer models travel, but simply at a slower pace. Enjoyment, however, is not measured by miles per hour.

*Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing or printing costs when you seek personal advice or one of his psychological charts.

LEAP BEFORE YOU LOOK

By Peggy O'More

YESTERDAY: Abe introduced Tomi to the frogs. Then Bartlett reads her the provisions of the will in detail and she agrees to meet him at the Alameda bank. After he leaves, a girl comes down the path.

Chapter Nine
THE BLONDE GADFLY
TOMI loved beauty. She wanted friends, the girl chums that the Toland barriers had kept from her. Perhaps this was a neighbor to welcome her. She arose eagerly.

"Just what are you doing in here?" demanded the vision. "Didn't you see the no trespassing sign on the gate?"

Tomi's smile grew scintillating. "Did you?" she asked.

"Why, I belong here," came the indignant reply.

Tomi's smile grew sweeter. So this was Lily, the girl who, according to Old Abe, hung around Allen.

As far as Lily was concerned, thought Tomi, Allen has won this property and she is married to him. Suddenly Tomi decided that Lily was wrong. Allen wasn't going to win the property and Lily wasn't going to win Allen.

A. J. Morris could have told Lily Mankin that danger lay ahead when Tomi smiled that particularly scintillating smile. A. J., however, was in Chicago.

But it was difficult for anyone to tell Lily anything she didn't want to believe. This strikingly pretty girl in slacks and sweater was not what she had expected in Timothy Toland's heir. She was not Lily's idea of a business woman. Business women were either fat and pompous, or thin and acidulous. This girl was neither. She must be Miss Toland's companion or a companion-maid.

"Just what are you doing in here?" demanded the irritating smile. "Abe," she ordered, "kindly tell Miss Toland that Miss Mankin is looking for Mr. Bartlett."

Gravely Abe turned to Tomi. "Miss Toland, Lily's looking for Allen again."

"Kindly tell Miss Mankin that Miss Toland wishes her luck," returned Tomi blithely, and skipped the steps and into the house.

Tomi wasn't smiling when she joined her a few moments later. She was walking up and down the living room, saying, "This is mine—all of it."

She came to an abrupt stop before Timothy Toland's portrait. "Just what did you have in your mind when you drew up that will?" she demanded. "You've had me brought out here six months before I can claim the property. You gave Allen ten thousand dollars before you died, hey, says, so I could carry on the farm. If that's the idea, why couldn't you have given the ten thousand to me, so I wouldn't have to dance to that legal gigolo's tune?"

Abe sauntered in, nibbling a leaf. "Reckon I can answer some of them questions," he offered. "Come in frog time. Farm needs some. One to start the marketing. If you don't get the big ones moved out, there won't be no room for those that are growin' up."

"Frogs is like pigs; they're profitable. They got the same kind of appetites too. They'd eat up your profits if you didn't start movin' 'em to market."

Tomi looked at Abe, "Says that I'm an old cow here to put the farm on its feet financially. I start with a handicap that could be made up next year. But I have to

WITH BOLERO

BY ANNE ADAMS

Sweetly demure . . . or smartly tailored—here's a style that can change like a summer breeze. If fashioned of a sheer, flower-splashed fabric, Anne Adams' Pattern 4391 is very dainty. The front panels of its flaring skirt rise to a high point to give your waistline a span-of-the-hand effect. The bodice is soft, and the graceful V neckline and sleeves are pretty with lace edging. But if your mood is more tailored and trim, you'll interpret the style in a jaunty, bolero and matching skirt of dark crepe, perhaps with a bodice of fresh white contrast. If you're really wise, you'll make both versions!

Pattern 4391 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16, dress, takes 34 yards 39 inch fabric and 14 yards truffling.

or as late as September, in the same way. Lupines have deep taproots. Some form of disaster generally follows breaking this taproot when transplanting. None but the advanced gardener, well equipped with knowledge and patience, successfully transplants them.

The seeds are quite hard and sometimes difficult to germinate. Soaking them in water so as to allow the hard seed coat to soften is helpful, but chipping the shell with a knife or file is a more dependable aid to germination. Dusting the seeds with a powdery culture sold for the inoculation of alfalfa and your soil has previously grown on "lucerne" the seeds may not germinate if you avoid soil inoculation.

Keep the soil around the seedlings on the dry side. When ready to set them in their permanent places.

THE HOME GARDENER

by EDWIN H. PERKINS

Much publicity is being given the English type lupine. Many gardeners who have never before tried any type lupine will probably try this one. At the start let it be said all types are easy to grow.

Many colors are found in both annual and perennial lupines. The perennials bloom earlier, around May and June, while the annuals begin bearing in July and continue through September except in the far South where blooms appear earlier than mentioned.

Both varieties may be grown from seeds. Start the annuals indoors now, or in a cold frame. Place the seeds in small pots—three to a pot is about right. Treat the perennial seeds, whether sown now aid once he'd never before seen blonde gaudy. Tomi brightened. "Then why does she think she has some claim on the property?"

"Lily's like that. She's aimin' to marry Allen when he can get round to it, and she figures anything he's got a hand in is hers, and she's got to raise together; next door to each other. Guess he's had to put up with her or so long it ain't occurred to him he don't have to."

"Well, I wasn't reared with her," stated Tomi emphatically, and I don't have to put up with her. The idea of her accusing me, anyone else of trespassing."

"Ah now," soothed Abe, "she isn't so bad if you don't take her serious."

"Not taking her any way," said Tomi with such finality that Abe went shuffling out of the house.

Tomi went back to her stance before Timothy's portrait. Something didn't ring true. If he had thought she had enough business ability to make a success of the farm, why had he thought she would foolishly spend the money he'd set aside?

She wished she had waited to question Bartell, or hired a Chicago attorney to question him before she started West. Never having been involved in legacies, she hadn't realized that six months had to elapse before the estate was distributed. Anything could happen within those six months. The family might contest the will and win.

"But had I known what was ahead, I'd have stayed on with A. J.," she murmured. "This way, I have a six months' start. And, believe me, Timothy Toland, I'm going to take advantage of those months. There'll be legs... frogs' legs... on every table in the land."

First, however, she must find a place where she might sleep with some assurance of safety.

She started a tour of the house and gradually forgot Uncle Timothy, Lily, even Allen Bartell.

Five rooms had been crowded onto the first floor. Five rooms with tall, narrow windows looking out on nothing in particular.

Mentally, Tomi razed a few walls and the lean-to kitchen, reduced the rooms to three, and inserted broad windows which would give a view of the bay or of the hills.

She ascended the stairs to confront five small bedrooms and a bath larger than any of them. She would turn the south side into one big room; at present she'd content herself with the southwest room overlooking the bay—and her subconscious mind prompted, Allen Bartell's house.

The Automobile

She admitted reluctantly that his place was attractive. It was modernistic in line with windows like exasperated porpoises, their sea-blue frames set against the white clapboard walls. She could barely see the end of a veranda which was built like a deck, but it seemed to protrude to the very brink of a short cliff and there joined a pier which jutted into the bay.

Outside, in a grove of black salt cedars, was a barbecue pit, a court, which was probably used for squash ball and badminton, a driving tee and putting green.

"All it needs is a slide and a sand-

New Members of Church, Honored at Reception

Roy Martin was toastmaster and group singing was led by Miss Edith Gray. Dr. R. E. Knister gave the address of welcome to the group of new members who joined the church on Palm Sunday. Responses were made by Dr. Lewis Thomas, David Ellis, A. N. Begeman and Fred Chapple. A vocal solo was contributed by Mrs. Allie Hill with Mrs. W. H. Wiese playing the piano accompaniment. The program was followed by an informal "get acquainted" period in charge of Mrs. Arthur Giersbach.

At Deanery Meeting

Mrs. Francis Higgins of this city, chairman of Catholic Women's Study clubs of the Green Bay Diocese, attended a meeting of the Stevens Point deanery Wednesday. About 100 women were present for the affair, which was held at the auditorium of St. Stephens school. Miss Mary Roach of the faculty of Central State Teachers' college, Stevens point, was the speaker at the noon luncheon.

Taking part in the day's program were Mrs. Higgins of this city, Miss Edmire Quinlan, Green Bay, chairman of extension of religious education in the Green Bay Diocese; Miss Nellie McGinley, Stevens Point, chairman of international relations; and Mrs. Frank W. Grogan, Kaukauna, chairman of civic affairs. Mrs. John T. Nugent and Mrs. C. W. McCready, both of Green Bay, were among the diocesan officers present. Mrs. C. E. Van Hecke is director of the Stevens Point deanery. Mrs. Higgins has been invited to be the speaker at a meeting of the Catholic Women's Study club at Custer, Wis., on April 24.

Central Circle of the Congregational Dorcas society was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Joseph Moser at her home Fourteenth street.

The Rev. W. H. Wiese was at Neenah, where he attended a meeting of pastors and laymen of the Appleton district of Methodist churches.

Miss Leola Jackson of this city is a patient at the Clintonville Community hospital, where she recently submitted to a major operation.

Book Review Club Has Its April Gathering

Clintonville—A program on contemporary writers and their works was given at the April meeting of the book review club Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Max Stueg on N. Main street. Mrs. A. B. Mayhew reviewed the life of Willa Cather and read excerpts from one of her best known books, "Death Comes to the Archbishop."

A report on the life of Hamlet Garland was given by Miss Jane Kelly, librarian at the Finney public library. She also reviewed Kenneth Robert's "Northwest Passage," recently made into a moving picture.

Having heard lectures at Madison by Mary Ellen Chase, Mrs. T. A. Landon talked on her life and summarized several of her lectures, "The Larger Life" and "The Goodly Fellowship." "This England" is one of the best known books by this author.

The weekly dinner of the Clintonville Lions club was canceled here Tuesday evening when members and their wives went to Black Creek to attend a "ladies night" meeting. About ten local couples were in attendance.

Price Weakness Disturbs Buying On Steel Market

Irregularity Becomes Pro- nounced: Auto Out- put Steady

Cleveland—(AP)—Price weakness in flat-rolled products overshadows appearance of more definite improvement in steel demand and has tended to interrupt buying, according to magazine Steel.

Irregularity which had prevailed in sheet and strip quotations for a relatively brief period became pronounced recently. It was brought into the open late last week when Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. stated it was recognizing this weakness by reductions of $4 a ton from previously announced prices for second quarter on hot-rolled sheets. Other producers have followed suit.

While this cut brings prices $5 to $7 a ton below levels of a year ago, the market at the latter time was heading into the May price war which developed temporary concessions of $8 a ton or more. As in the price disturbance a year ago, shading on automotive orders recently was the important factor in causing last week's general reduction.

Principal reduction in steelmaking last week was 43 points to 53 per cent at Pittsburgh. Chicago was up 14 points to 59. Wheeling rose 12 points to 56. Other decreases were 2 points to 57 in eastern Pennsylvania, 3 points to 65 at Cleveland, 23 points to 44 at Buffalo, 10 points to 55 in New England, 6 points to 45 at St. Louis and 2 points to 77 at Detroit. Unchanged were Youngstown at 42 and Birmingham at 61.

Automobile production is steady. Last week's output of 102,940 units showed a gain of 1285 over the week before and compares with 88,050 a year ago. Motor car assemblies have been unusually steady for six weeks, and brisk retail demand points to possibility of sustained operations through May.

Lake Shipments In Big Increase

West Shore Cities Handle More Coal and Iron Ore

Milwaukee—(AP)—Larger shipments of coal and iron ore, indicating greater industrial needs, were noted today in 1938 lake boat tonnage figures for harbors on the west shore of Lake Michigan.

The totals, including freight shipped into and out of the ports, were announced as follows by Lt. Col. W. H. Holcombe, army engineer in charge of the Milwaukee district: Port Inland, Mich., 2,588,068; Manistique, 163,499; Nahma, 1,156; Gladstone, 30,061; Escanaba, 3,052,524; Menominee (Mich.) - Marinette (Wis.), 639,047.

Oconto, Wis., 274; Pensaukee, 196; Big Saumico river, 465; Washington Island, 9,138; Sturgeon Bay, 268,892; Kewaunee, 518,115; Algoma, 4,616; Two Rivers, 34,578; Manitowoc, 1,320,277; Sheboygan, 459,232.

Wolf River, by the Rev. Victor Grossheusch. Burial will be in the Wolf River cemetery. The body may be viewed at the Bauer funeral home after Thursday noon and at Hope Reformed church after 11:30 Friday morning.

Port Washington, 251,487; Racine, 326,813; Kenosha, 40,421; and Green Bay-DePere, 2,328,996.

Milwaukee figures have not been compiled as yet, but it is expected that coal shipments and car ferry traffic will offset a decrease in the amount of grain moved out of the city in 1938. Milwaukee tonnage in 1938 amounted to 5,849,466.

Port Inland's tonnage was more than 100 per cent greater in 1939 than 1938. The increase at Escanaba, an ore shipping port, was even greater.

Increases also were noted at Manistique, Gladstone, Marinette-Menominee, Green Bay-DePere, Kewaunee, Manitowoc, Sheboygan, Port Washington, Racine and Kenosha.

Seymour Fair to be Staged August 15-18

The 1940 Seymour fair will be held August 15 to 18, according to an announcement made today by Ralph E. Ammon, director of the state department of agriculture on 70 county and district fairs to be held in Wisconsin this year.

The Weyauwega fair will be held August 8-11. Other fairs to be held in this section of the state are: Oshkosh, August 27-30; Chilton, August 30-Sept. 2; DePere, August 21-25; Manitowoc, August 14-18; Fond du Lac, August 12-15; Shawano, Sept. 3-5; and Beaver Dam, Sept. 7-11.

Logan-Walter Bill Puzzling to House

Wonders Why Reviews of Some Agencies are Barred From Courts

BY W. B. RAGSDALE

Washington—(AP)—The Logan-Walter bill now before the house would subject the rules of some—but not all—government agencies to judicial review.

That is to say, a person or corporation stepped on by a ruling or decision of the national labor relations board or the securities commission might take an appeal into the federal courts. A new path is marked out for such an appeal.

But if it were one of several leading agencies, the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, the interstate commerce commission or the federal trade commission that stepped on him, such limited recourse as he might have would be exactly the same as he had before the bill was passed. These agencies are exempt from the Logan-Walter bill.

How and why these were left out of the bill is a dark corner into which the house debate has thrown no light. Even quite a few highly-placed members of the judiciary committee said they had no direct information on the subject.

What seems to have happened was that a line was drawn between the agencies which had stepped on too many toes and those which had been careful about corns. Agencies which had turned out unpopular rulings or which had drawn criticism were put into a spot where that criticism could gain a legal outlet.

"Now that's what I call good coffee"

How pleasant it is to meet a friend who says, "We had such a nice time at your house last Saturday ... And do you know it was the first time I ever saw Jack take a second cup of coffee. All the way home he kept saying ... 'NOW THAT'S WHAT I CALL GOOD COFFEE!'"

HILLS BROS. COFFEE

YOU WILL HEAR COMPLIMENTS when you serve Hills Bros. Coffee. Every can you buy has the same delicious flavor, and The Correct Grind is guaranteed to give best results by any method of coffee-making if directions are followed. Remember—Hills Bros. Coffee should never be reground. Regrinding results in a loss of flavor and aroma, and the coffee loses its freshness faster.

IMPORTANT: Carefully observe timing for each method. Measure 2 level tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water. Vary water slightly for exact strength desired. Keep coffee-maker clean.

WHEN USING THE DRIP METHOD: 6 to 8 minutes preferred. If less than 2/3 capacity is made, water will drip too fast, giving weak coffee.

WHEN USING A GLASS VACUUM-MAKER: Put upper bowl on after water boils. The coffee and water should be in contact 5 to 7 minutes.

WHEN USING A PERCOLATOR: Start with cold or hot water. Percolate slowly 7 to 10 minutes after steady pumping starts.

WHEN USING A COFFEEPOT: Bring coffee to boiling. Stir. Remove from fire. Add a little cold water and let stand 5 minutes to settle.

WHEN USING THE STEEPING METHOD: Pour boiling water on coffee. Stir well. Steep again in 5 minutes. Steep for a total of 10 to 15 minutes.

Hint of the week

Coffee should be in contact with water for a definite length of time. After the correct timing for your coffee-maker has been determined, stick to it; otherwise results will not be uniform.

ON THE SIDE—directions for obtaining best results by any method of coffee-making.

The WORLD of STAMPS

Stamp news this week includes two items about the famous American series.

The first concerns the composers group, designs for which have just been released. They show Stephen Foster on the 1-cent; John Philip Sousa on the 2; Victor Herbert (illustrated) on the 3; Edward Macdonald on the 5, and Ethelbert Neve on the 10.

The second news concerns Mrs. Bowditch Morton, of San Francisco, daughter-in-law of Dr. William Thomas Green Morton.

Mrs. Morton has taken exception to the fact that Dr. Crawford W. Long, of Georgia, was selected for the series as the "discoverer of general anesthesia." She contends that several authorities credit her father-in-law, Dr. Morton, with the discovery. Among these are the Encyclopedia Britannica, which says, "Although Dr. Long had performed the first operation under ether in 1842, it was Dr. Morton's independent discovery and his demonstrations which first made the value of sulphuric ether known to the world."

A native of Boston, Dr. Morton used ether in connection with his dental practice. Dr. Long and another physician, Dr. Charles T. Jackson, also used ether in minor operations. A U. S. Senate bill of 1854, designed to reward the probable discoverers of practical anesthesia, named all three men.

In commemoration of the return of Vilna, her ancient capital, Lithuania has issued four stamps, two for 30 cental each, one for 15 and one for 60.

The first of the 30 cental, a green shows the "Laisves Varpas," or Liberty Bell, which Lithuania-Americans presented to their mother country when it obtained national independence from Russia in 1918. The other 30 cental stamp bears a medallion portrait of Gediminas, the grand duke who established Vilna as his capital about 1323.

The 15 cental stamp shows a view of modern Vilna, and the 60 cental item shows a view of the ancient chateau of Vytautas, at Trakai. Vytautas, grandson of Gediminas, ruled in 1392-1430.

The last three named stamps all bear the date, "1939-X-10," which refers to November 10, 1939, on which date Soviet Russia turned over the city of Vilna to Lithuania after capturing it from Poland. The Polish seized Vilna in 1920 despite the fact that the Lith considered it their capital.

Unassorted Items

Two special Belgian stamps have been announced. One is for use on parcels sent to mobilized soldiers. Turkey has released a charity set of four values. The 20 para value, printed in light green, pictures a smiling child. The 1k blue, the 2k red-violet, and 5k purple show a nurse kissing a small child.

Play Presented at Monday Night Club Meeting at Waupaca

Waupaca—After a year of study of the Latin American countries, the Monday night club presented a play, "Spiced Wine," Monday evening in the library club rooms. The play was typically Spanish. Mrs. Sam Salan, president of the club, was in the role of the countess, with Mrs. Lester M. Evans her maid, and Mrs. E. E. Deuel as the vicar.

Dr. A. O. Carswell, associate executive secretary for the anti-tuberculosis association, talked on the importance of early diagnosis of tuberculosis. He stressed the importance also of continuing the health programs of our schools and of following the disease into homes where every person afflicted should be isolated.

Yolanda Gineti sang three Spanish numbers, "La Paloma," "The Swan," and "Ay, Ay, Ay," accompanied by Betty Carey.

Mr. Henry Lammman, instructor in the junior high school, will talk next Monday evening to the club on the "Foreign Policy of the United States in Dealing with Latin America Since 1823." His lesson will also include discussion of the Monroe doctrine, dollar diplomacy and the good neighbor policy.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MovieLand Its People and Products

By Jimmie Fidler

Hollywood — Jack Moffitt of the Kansas City Star advances an observation which I should have thought of first, but didn't. It is that John Wayne, who clicked so definitely in "Stage Coach," and has repeated in "Dakota Command," is rising to stardom via the same route that Gary Cooper pursued.

Hereafter (to quote Moffitt) I had thought of Wayne as a quiet, inconspicuous young man of some handsomeness and good physique, suited to secondary screen roles. All of a sudden, he looms as a potential big star and a new feminine heart throb.

Wayne's career closely parallels that of Cooper. Most of us never thought of Gary as a heart throb, or even as a good actor, until he did "Farewell to Arms." So, it looks to me as if John's future is right now at a top-of-the-fence point. Either he can be given stronger roles and developed into a new Cooper, or he can be returned to secondary roles and quickie Westerns, thereby sliding back to semi-obscure. I look for Wayne to have something to say about his future. Hereafter, he has been a tractable young man. After "Stage Coach," he resumed his old cowboy status with little grumbling. But now, with a second hit, I wonder if he's going to be satisfied with his former inglorious parts?

Republic hasn't been slow to recognize other million dollar assets and to realize on them. I won't be surprised if they announce grandiose plans for Wayne—I will be surprised if he fails to become as big a box-office asset as Gene Autry.

IDOL CHATTER: Wonder how Garbo feels about those "safe" Scandinavian investments now? Add slogans to fit the star: Hedy Lamarr—"asks the man who owns one." Don't know how deft Jackie Cooper is at other military maneuvers, but he's a whiz at executing "a-pout face." Peas-in-a-pod: Ginger Rogers and Lucille Fairbanks. If fatherhood curbs Doug Fairbanks' ven for practical joking, let's cheer the new heir-rival. Near-record hold-outs: the Gene Autrys—married eight years and nary a divorce rumor. Hollywood's "town of beautiful girls," all right—but one in a thousand is a native. In that huge Lincoln presented by Henry Ford, Mickey Rooney looks absolutely microscopic.

After trying desperately to explain to Gregory Ratoff the exact difference between a judge and a magistrate in American jurisprudence, his assistant finally fell back on movie parlance. "The magistrate," he explained, "is a 'Class B' Judge—get it?" "Sure," said Ratoff, "why did you waste so much time beating around the bush?"

TEN YEARS AGO IN HOLLYWOOD: We celebrated the Lucia Young-Grant Withers, Dolores Del Rio-Cedric Gibbons, Sally Eilers-Hoot Gibson and Bebe Daniels-Ben Lyon all-star-ations. Ben and Bebe are the only survivors! Jean Harlow skyrocketed to stardom in "Hell's Angels." Jack Gilbert called writer Jim Tully names and took a snooze on the Brown Derby floor. The final curtain fell

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schneider and children, Miss Virginia Kolb, and Jack Weier, and Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Andrews and family of Green Bay.

Mrs. Kate Miller is a patient at the St. Vincent hospital, Green Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weier have purchased the store and dance hall, of Ray Tappas and will take possession May 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Seefeldt of Manitowish, Mich., spent the weekend at the John Snell home.

Sweden, Hungary Expect Invasion Soon—Lawrence

Extension of European War Seen in Next Six Or Eight Weeks

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Extension of the European war to include more neutral countries is confidently expected by diplomatic Washington within the next six or eight weeks.

Lawrence

The countries which are expected to be invaded soon are Sweden and Hungary. This may tend to draw other countries into the war. The information reaching here from diplomatic sources abroad of a reliable character is that Premier Mussolini has agreed to take Italy into the war just as soon as the Balkan situation moves into another crisis which is expected to be precipitated when Germany starts out to "protect" Hungary.

The allies it is believed here have received the same information and are preparing to act accordingly. Those who are in a position to know say that the die has been cast by Italy and that the next move will be to turn to coincide with the invasion of Hungary.

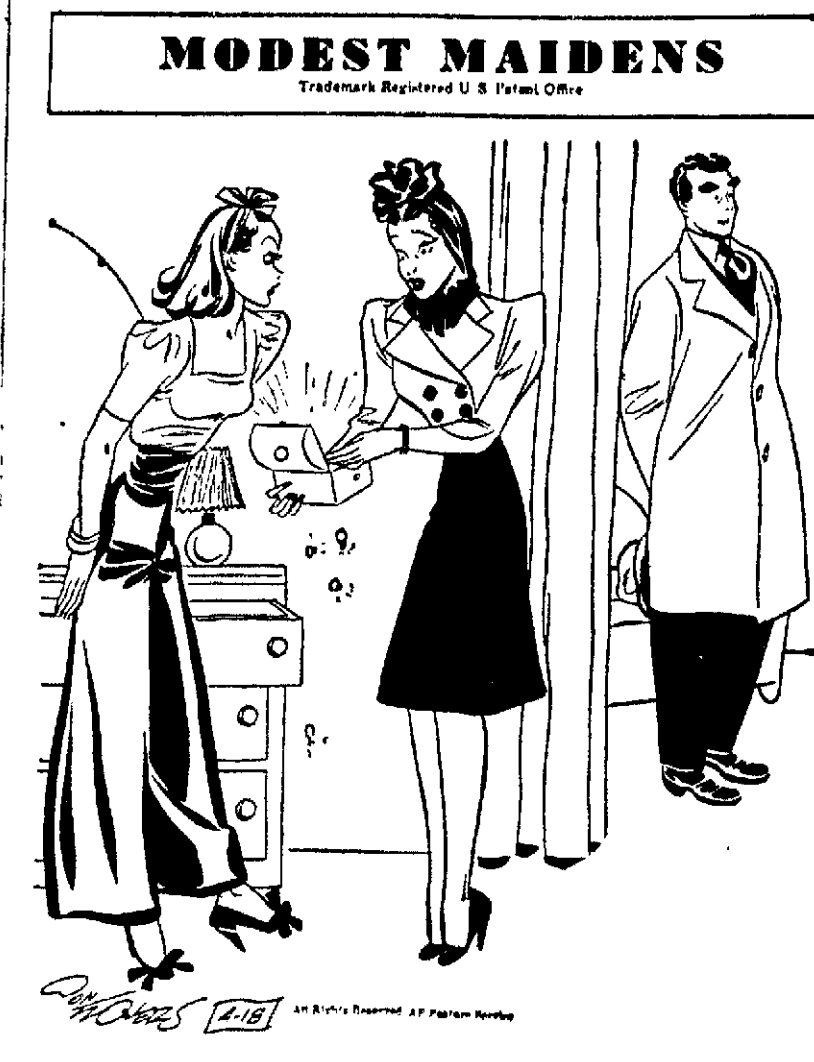

As for Sweden, the Nazis are believed ready to extend their military operations just as soon as it becomes apparent that control of Swedish railroads is necessary to bring the much-needed iron ore through the Baltic when navigation opens.

The Washington government has been receiving reports of this kind for a long time, but does not make them public because they have too often in the past been premature. But the government is nevertheless on its guard in warning American residents abroad to make the necessary preparations and adjustments.

Information Channels

Official Washington has four channels of information— allied sources, Nazi sources, neutral sources and American government sources. Late in most of the information that has been coming here has arrived through neutral governments. The department of state is able to check through its own diplomatic representatives abroad, but secrets of this kind are well kept. The information that Italy will soon enter the war on the side of the Nazis does not come from the American government. It comes from informants who know the central European situation and have communicated it to various governmental representatives here and abroad.

The entry of Italy into the war would be a regrettable step viewed

Change Is Only Reality, Peilow Tells Students

Pasadena Astronomer Claims "There are No Basic Laws of Nature"

"Change is the only reality; there are no basic laws of nature," declared C. E. Peilow, Pasadena astronomer, who spoke before the Lyceum of Appleton High school Tuesday morning. He was assisted by V. D. Renelein, who operated the projection machine. Both Peilow and Renelein have been associated with the Mt. Wilson observatory in Pasadena and many of the slides showed the telescope used by the scientists in making their photographs.

Life as we know it, the speaker stated, cannot exist on the planet Mars because of the extremes in temperature within a 24-hour period. Scientists attempt to determine whether or not life is possible on the various planets by discovering the amount of hydrogen and carbon in the atmosphere, he explained. Living matter is essentially various combinations of the hydrogen and carbon atoms.

It is well-established, he stated, that Pluto is in fact a planet. It is unique, however, in that its orbit will cross into the orbit of the planet Neptune. This will not occur until 1989, he added, emphasizing the fact that many of the secrets of the universe cannot be disclosed until after years of patient observation and comparisons.

Particularly impressive were the pictures showing the 200-inch telescope, the largest in the world, which is still incomplete after 10 years of construction. The weight of the telescope is 900 tons, yet it can be controlled by the weight of a man's hand.

Inter-American Bank Proposed To Strengthen Trade Relations

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—Many Americans are inclined to think in terms of military danger to the western hemisphere. Even if Germany should win the war, the danger of invasion on the western hemisphere would be extremely remote.

What the western hemisphere does face as almost a certainty, no matter what the outcome of the European war, is attempted economic invasion of the Americas. Both Great Britain and Germany have been obliged to suspend exports to South America and to cut off heavy purchases. After the war we may expect an immediate effort not only to recapture that trade but to enlarge it beyond previous volume.

If Germany wins the war, this will be attempted by methods which will involve elements of political domination, the methods which President Roosevelt described in his Pan-American union address as "economic compulsions shrewdly devised to force great areas into political spheres of influence."

Some of our officials are giving much attention to the new German program which is an expansion of Hitler's much publicized "living space" idea into a concept of "economic space." Germany's idea is to organize around herself not only a regional economic unit, but to bring into that system non-contiguous territory in order to obtain rubber, tin, coffee, cotton and other materials which lie beyond the European continent.

Economic coercion and political influence in the countries where the desired raw materials exist would be the weapons of this "invasion." We have just been told how military invasion of Norway was achieved by obtaining the co-operation of a few Norwegian officials. Economic invasion can be accomplished by similar means when the operation involves small or weak countries.

If the allies win, the British will be compelled to resort to high-pressure trade tactics, involving barter or closed exchange agreements. The post-war trade struggle will be a struggle between governments, most of which will have complete control over their own foreign trade.

European Trade Is Injured by Conflict

We naturally will be much concerned about the application of such tactics to Latin-America, particularly if they involve exclusive arrangements accompanied by pressure exercised through political control.

But such methods can gain foothold in Latin-America only if no alternatives are offered those countries. Their trade has been severely injured by the war and, if the United States remains indifferent now, they will be thrown into the clutches of any arrangements that may be thrust at them from Europe.

A foreign policy association study indicates that, assuming complete removal of German competition and maintenance of the 1938 level of purchasing power in Latin-America, the United States theoretically is in a position to expand exports to Latin-America by almost 50 per cent, or more if decline of British and French sales is taken into consideration.

If we took over German markets in Latin-America, it would mean tripling exports of pharmaceuticals and coal, doubling iron and steel manufactures, a rise of 62 per cent in textiles, 73 per cent in paper and paper products, and 43 per cent in machinery of all types, with a 50 per cent increase in electrical machinery and equipment.

U. S. Is Subservient to British-Controlled Tin

But to buy, Latin America must export more here of coffee, bananas, sugar, cacao, hides, wool, manganese, chrome and some other commodities. We can develop a rubber industry. We should be taking Bolivian tin, but we have neglected to develop a smelting industry and have been subservient to the British-controlled tin cartel.

One healthy move came this week when the nations of the western hemisphere agreed to creation of an inter-American bank, which would provide a kind of federal reserve system for the western hemisphere and facilitate trade operations. This project is to considerable degree the work of Assistant Secretary of State Berle.

Our participation is contingent upon senate ratification of the convention and granting of a charter by congress. Opposition already is kicking up but it is probable that a majority in congress will see the importance to the United States and will not wreck this attempt to strengthen our economic defenses in the western hemisphere against the day when the attempted economic invasion from Europe begins.
